ONE HEART VICTIM

S.P. City Of San Francisco Derails At Emigrant Gap

EMIGRANT GAP (AP)— Eight cars of the City of San Francisco passenger train derailed today near the high Sierra community of Emigrant Gap.

One woman was reported dead the apparent victim of a heart attack. Two train crewmen were injured, neither seriously, and one passenger hospitalized for observation.

Southern Pacific railroad officials refused to release the name of the dead woman until her next of kin had been notified.

The 17-car streamliner, with 196 passengers aboard, was en route from Chicago to Oakland.

The site of the derailment was in the snow-overed Sierra Nevada, about 65 miles northeast of Sacramento, at an elevation of about 5,500 feet in rugged granite and timber country.

There was about two feet of snow in the area, but none on the tracks.

Earl Baker, passenger agent for Southern Pacific's Sacramento office, said the cause of the accident still was unknown and that an investigating team was expected at the scene soon.

Two of the cars were tipped over, one was sideways on the track, and the others all derailed but upright.

A passenger identified as 66-year-old Alva Cano of Seaside was taken from the wreck site in an ambulance to Truckee Hospital for observation. The extent of her injuries, if any, was not known.

Power units from a following freight train hooked on to the passenger train cars still on the track and pulled them back two and one-half miles to Emigrant Gap Station.

The tracks parallel Interstate 80.

The weather was mild with temperatures in the 40s and only scattered snow remaining on the ground from earlier storms.

Emigrant Gap, at about 5,500 feet elevation on the western slope of the Sierra, is a rugged

'War' Proposed On 3 Killer Diseases

$2.9 Billion Nationwide Plan Seen

WASHINGTON (UPI)— A presidential study commission today recommended a massive 2.9-billion-dollar assault on heart disease, cancer and stroke by marshalling governmental strength and university facilities.

The research and treatment plan would be built around a network of regional centers designed to learn more about these diseases which cause 70 per cent of American deaths.

The study group was set up by President Lyndon B. Johnson in March and commissioned to draw up a blueprint for improving national facilities for fighting these diseases. At present the government is spending about 220 million dollars in the research and treatment areas covered by the report.

The group urged establishment of a network of regional heart disease, cancer and stroke centers "for clinical investigation, teaching and patient care."

These would be located in universities, hospitals and research institutes and other institutions.

Included would be 25 centers for heart disease, 20 for cancer and 15 for stroke to be established over a five-year period.

The program also would include a second national network of "diagnostic and treatment stations" located in communities throughout the nation.

The purpose of this would be "to bring the highest medical skills in heart disease, cancer and stroke within reach of every citizen."

This plan envisions over a five-year period 150 stations for heart disease, 200 for cancer and 100 for stroke.

The group also urged "a broad and flexible program or grant support" to stimulate more advanced research efforts in university medical schools, hospitals and other health care centers.

It suggested that the public health service receive 25 million-dollars for such grants the first year which would be raised to 75-million-dollars in the fifth year of operation.

The program also would include grants to medical schools "to enable these institutions to improve their total capability for both academic and research programs."

Other recommendations also included:

Imlay Named Councilman In Sausalito

Attorney Alexander R. Imlay, 44, was appointed to the Sausalito City Council last night, filling the vacancy created by the death of Mayor pro tem Carl W. Gabrielson.

Imlay was nominated by Mayor Jan Paul Dyk and seated by unanimous vote. He took his oath of office immediately and voted on all matters coming before the council for the rest of the evening.

Mayor Dyk noted that Imlay had been a member of the city's ad hoc committee advising on Marin City problems in 1960, and a Sausalito resident since 1951. The new councilman and his artist wife, Marjo, and four children live at 250 Curry Lane.

Imlay will serve the unexpired balance of Gabrielson's term, until January, 1969.

The council also accepted "with regret" the resignation of planning commissioner Walter V. Guthrie, who said his landscape architecture business deos not leave him enough time to continue on the commission. By motion of Mayor Dyk, the council unanimously appointed Samuel Weinstein of 27 Atwood Street, an official of the federal Housing and Home Finance Agency, and a 16-year Sausalito resident, to replace Guthrie. His term will expire Jan. 1, 1968.

Planning commission members Robert Nissen, Norman Murdock and Walter Thomson, whose terms are expiring, were reappointed for terms expiring Jan 1, 1969.

BOARD DEMANDS BURIED UTILITIES

Supervisor Behr Argues That Developer Caught Unawares, Asks Ordinance Change

By FRANK FARRARA

Marin County supervisors yesterday required underground utilities for a subdivision and indicated it will be the policy in the future.

The board approved a tentative map of Marinwood Terrace and set as one of the conditions that underground utilities be installed.

The vote was 3-1 with Supervisor Peter H. Behr dissenting and Supervisor William D. Fusselman absent.

Behr explained that he was in favor of underground utilities, but felt in the Marinwood Terrace case, "the developer was caught unawares."

Behr then made a motion that the planning staff prepare an amendment to the subdivision ordinance that would require underground utilities, and the board agreed.

"I want the subdivision ordinance amended so it can be a requirement," Behr said.

Attorney Julius Selinger, representing the developer, William M. Falcon, charged that the board had "imposed an illegal condition."

He said he failed to find any law which allows the supervisors to impose conditions requiring underground utilities.

Such a requirement would be "oppressive," and the cost of underground utilities would be prohibitive, Selinger said.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker said the board must base its decisions in terms of planning, not on economics alone.

Falcon said that underground utilities haven't been required in other subdivisions, and pointed out that the county planning commission did not require them.

Leydecker answered, "The board has expressed lack of confidence in the planning commission over a period of time, and that's one reason we're struggling over this map."

Supervisors also considered other conditions for the proposed 22-lot subdivision on 16 acres

Sunset Corp. Ready To Buy Out Eichler

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sunset International Petroleum Corp. said today it has entered into a preliminary agreement to acquire Eichler Homes Inc. of San Francisco.

This, Sunset said, would make it the nation's largest community and home builder, with assets of 115 million dollars and communities planned or under construction worth 2 billion dollars.

(Eichler's Marin County operations include 100 acres for a planned community in Lucas Valley, about half completed at present, and undeveloped land at Strawberry Point on the Tiburon Peninsula. Sunset is developer of San Marin in Novato.)

The firm said it would issue to Eichler approximately $5 million worth of notes and five per cent subordinated debentures and would assume liabilities of the assets it acquires.

Eichler, long a leading California home construction firm, has assets announced as $35 million and projects underway in more than 10 cities. Eichler would be operated as a Sunset subsidiary.

Sunset, which entered home building in 1960 and has been expanding rapidly, has nine communities under construction or planned in California.

Public Is Barred At Congo Hearing

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) —The public was barred today, as a precaution against demonstrations, from a security council meeting called to hear African charges of military aggression against the United States and Belgium for their rescue missions in the Congo.

The U.N. Security Office took the usual precaution to prevent a repetition of a violent demonstration which erupted into a corridor slugfest between demonstrators and guards during a council meeting on the Congo situation in 1961.

There was a possibility, a spokesman said, that no visitors would be admitted to any part of the U.N. headquarters.

Hardcastle Urges Span Bus Toll Cut

By WAT TAKESHITA

Thomas D. Hardcastle of Novato proposed today that Greyhound bus tolls over the Golden Gate Bridge be reduced from $1 per bus to 13 cents.

Hardcastle made the suggestion at a joint meeting of the finance committee and the commuters affairs committee of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District.

The Marin Bridge Director reasoned that the savings to Greyhound because of the proposed cut might then be used as an argument to oppose Greyhound's application for a rate increase now before the state Public Utilities Commission.

Hardcastle also proposed that the bridge directors oppose any increase in Greyhound commute fares. This was voted down by all the directors except Hardcastle and Stephen C. Leonoudakis of San Francisco.

However, the bridge directors

Marin Teachers Jibe At Cal Police Tactics

Twenty-one Marin County teachers have written to University of California president Clark Kerr deploring use of outside police on campus and urging that all students on university campuses "be given complete freedom to speak and organize for any political cause."

Eight of the signatories live in the East Bay or San Francisco. All but one are teaching at Terra Linda or San Rafael High Schools. (See related stories, page 2.)

Their letter expresses "vital concern with education" in the signatories' capacities both as California citizens and as teachers. After urging freedom of speech and organization the letter concludes:

"We feel that what constitutes legal or illegal advocacy is a matter to be decided by the courts and not the administration of the university."

From Terra Linda High School—Johanna Clark of San Francisco, Miriam Chown of San Rafael, Judy Jackman of San Francisco, Carol Goltz of San Anselmo, Elizabeth Rogers of San Rafael, Don Fearis of Sausalito, Jean Martincich of Richmond, Sally Rupp of Fairfax.

From San Rafael High School —Barbara Blumberg of Albany, Faye Hinze of Fairfax, June Stoerkel of Sausalito, Walter Belden of San Francisco, Prosper Boutet of Novato, Allan Barahal of San Rafael, Jack Curtin of Mill Valley, Warren Ewing of San Rafael, Audrey Kidd of San Francisco, Daniel Langton of San Francisco, Lew Levinson of Fairfax and Morse Byer of Berkeley.

Baker Hearing To Center On Redwood Bank

I-P SPECIAL REPORT

WASHINGTON—James Saxon, U.S. comptroller of the currency, was to be questioned by the Senate Rules Committee late today concerning circumstances under which a charter was granted last year to Redwood National Bank of San Rafael.

After a four-hour closed session this morning the committee also voted to call Walter Jenkins, former White House aide who quit during the election campaign when it was revealed that he had twice been arrested on morals charges.

From Saxon, the committee was expected to seek light as to who, if anybody, did what in pushing through a Redwood Bank national charter after three months of delay had caused retention of Wayne Bromley, a pal of Bobby Baker, for "legal services."

So far the committee has mostly drawn blank in seeking to learn more about why Baker's signature showed up on the back of the bank's check along with Bromley's. While testimony has dealt only with the point

Lab Emptied By Explosion Scare; Bomb Disposal Squad Moves In

Kenneth Kamp, chief of the Kentfield fire department, recieved an unusual request for tongs to be used in moving a chemical out of a chemistry laboratory. He asked what the chemical was.

Isopropyl ether was the answer. Kamp immediately told College of Marin superintendent of buildings and grounds William Raudio to forget about tongs and to have the laboratory emptied of students.

About a half hour later, the bomb disposal squad from Hamilton Air Force Base gingerly carried out two pints of the liqued,said to be more sensitive to heat and shock than nitroglycerine.

The chemical, used as a solvent, was in the lab of instructor Edwin L. Braun. According to Kamp, the liquid is not dangerous when it is fresh, but that it becomes dangerous with age. He said the maximum "shelf life" is about a year.

Kamp was on the campus, checking over the college's new fire alarm system, when he heard about the chemical. He said he had recently received a bulletin about isopropyl ether, and that Brauun had also heard a warning about the material.

He said that Braun had asked that the chemical be disposed of, but apparently had not been as concerned as he about possible danger. Kamp added that the material would have had the explosive force about equal to a hand grenade in the classroom.

What finally happens to the touchy chemical is up to the bomb disposal squad which might try shooting at it with a rifle on a vacant lot, Said Kamp.

"It's out of town, that's all I care," he said.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Indonesia Closes U.S. Agency

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Indonesian officials closed down the activities of the U. S. Information Service today in Surabaja, capital of East Java, saying there was danger of more anti-American violence.

Officials in Surabaja told the U.S. consulate the closing was necessary "in order to maintain law and order," USIS Director Paul N. Neilson told a news conference in Jakarta.

Coeds Proud Owners Of Hippo

NEW YORK (UPI)—A sad-eyed members of the alleged gentler sex found out yesterday that it just wasn't true that nobody loves a fat female.

Betsy, the hippopotamus, all two tons of her, had been placed on the block by the City Department of Purchases because the city's zoos are faced with a housing shortage.

Betsy

Yesterday, when the sealed bids were opened, three Smith College coeds learned they had submitted the high bid of $400 for the hippo. The animal, an old hand at tearing roots, could therefore be headed for a new home in Massachusetts.

The girls, Ellen Emerson, Mary Horner and Ann Longfellow said they bid on the hippo because they felt sorry for Betsy.

Miss Emerson said she hadn't told her family about the outsize deal. It just wasn't the kind of thing a 19-year-old girl confides in her parents.

Litterbugs Target Of Plan

LOS ANGELES (AP)—State Sen. Randolph Collier says he's backing legislation that would set up a 10-cent deposit on beverage bottles and cans to discourage people from throwing them on highways.

Collier (D-Yreka), told a news conference yesterday that Californians are "just about the dirtiest people in the country when it comes to throwing stuff on the highways."

He said the corrective legislation he is supporting would establish a $500 mandatory fine for litterbugs and would permit payment of a reward to anyone who turns in a litterbug.

"It cost two or three million dollars a year to pick up litter from the highways," Collier said.

2 Girls Die In Icy Waters

RAUMA, Finland (UPI)—Singing happily as they were being taken by ferry to a military dance, 35 teen-age girls were suddenly pitched into the icy waters of Rauma Harbor last night when the vessel was struck by a tugboat.

Today, police said at least 21 of the girls drowned, along with the three military crewmen of the motor launch, which sank after being struck amidship by the tug in an icy rain.

The teen-agers were being taken to the weekly dance sponsored by the Finnish Coastal Artillery when the accident happened about 200 yards offshore of this northern coastal town.

ADDRESSES PARLIAMENT — Premier Alexei Kosygin delivers state of union address at opening today of 1964 winter session of Soviet Parliament. He said Soviet Union and United States would cut defense spending. (AP Wirephoto)

Russ To Cut Defense Funds —'U.S. Promises The Same'

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union announced today a cut in its military budget and said it had assurances from the United States American defense spending also will be curtailed next year.

Premier Alexei N. Kosygin said the Soviet Union was slicing 555.6 million dollars from its military budget to ease the cold war.

In reporting the U.S. plan for a defense spending cutback, he called the move "a positive step forward in reducing international tension."

(Western observers, while welcoming Kosygin's disclosure on a cut in Soviet military spending, pointed out that Russia frequently obscures its armaments outlay by listing some such spending under other budget items.)

Kosygin told the almost 1,400 members of the parliament that the Kremlin's "peace" budget would be cut 555.6 million dollars, with more money to be spent to give the average Russian a higher standard of living.

The 1965 budget will be the largest in Russia's peacetime history. It calls for 110.4 billion in expenditures and 110.7 billion dollars in revenues.

In outlining the budget to the opening session of the Supreme Soviet Kosygin did not explain the circumstances under which the United States was said to have told the Kremlin that it also would pare its military spending next year.

UNICEF Yule Cards Ousted By Birchers

MONTEREY (UPI)—The local leader of the John Birch Society claimed today that he had persuaded officials of the Bank of America and a department store to halt sales of UNICEF Christmas cards and calendars.

The manager of the Bank of America's Pacific Grove branch, J. Stanley Nelson, said the UNICEF tables were removed after Dan King III, the Birch Society's section leader here, had threatened to picket the bank with a squad of Minutemen, a right wing militia group.

As a result, the bank was picketed today by UNICEF supporters.

UNICEF is a United Nations agency. Proceeds from the sale of the Christmas cards and calendars are used to buy food and medical care for needy children in about 100 countries.

The local UNICEF organization had been selling the materials in the lobbies of the Pacific Grove and Carmel offices of the bank, and at Holman's Department store in Pacific Grove.

The minutemen did come up in our discussion," King said, "but actually the John Birch Society has no connection with it."

Nelson, however, said that King told him that "if we didn't stop the sale we would be picketed by minutemen."

American Is Killed In 'Dien Bien Phu' Fight

SAIGON (UPI)—Vietnamese airborne troops today landed within shooting distance of a mountain outpost surrounded by Communist guerrillas. At least one American has been killed and another wounded in two days of bitter fighting around the garrison.

A U.S. military spokesman here said a third American was listed as missing in the battle for beleaguered An Lao in the rugged central highlands 300 miles north of Saigon.

The American combat fatality —230th of the war—was a helicopter machinegunner killed in the early stages of the battle when Viet Cong Guerrillas captured strategic hilltop positions overlooking the fort.

Three U.S. soldiers were killed yesterday in a separate engagement with the Viet Cong southwest of Saigon.

The wounded American was part of a U.S.-supported armored relief column which was ambushed last night 10 miles south of An Lao. He was struck by shrapnel in the legs.

The missing GI, the spokesman said, may have been burned beyond recognition when Communist gunfire reduced five armored personnel carriers in the column to rubble.

It was the first big "set piece" battle of the war for Viet Cong forces, and bore striking resemblances to the classic Communist attack on Dien Bien Phu 10 years ago during the French Indo-China War.

The Dien Bien Phu campaign against the French marked the transformation of the Communist effort from the guerrilla warfare stage into conventional fighting.

Military observers here said today that the An Lao battle may signal a widening Viet Cong experiment at similar tactics to speed up the war.

Fire Death Trial May Be Moved

SAN BERNARDINO (UPI)—Attorney Edward Foley today was considering whether to seek a change of venue for the second trial of Mrs. Lucille Miller, accused of killing her dentist husband.

Foley said yesterday he was trying to decide whether to ask the court to change the trial location before the retrial Jan. 11.

Despite Foley's vigorous objections Monday, Superior Judge John Kerrigan refused to free Mrs. Miller on bail pending the retrial.

Three hours earlier, Superior Judge Carl B. Hilliard had called a mistrial in the case because publicity surrounding the case might have prejudiced the jury.

LEOPOLDVILLE, THE CONGO (UPI) — The known white death toll in the Congo since the Belgian paratroopers dropped into Stanleyville rose today to 95 with news that three more whites had been stabbed and clubbed to death by the rebels.

U.C. Ruckus Humiliating —Hayakawa

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The lofty original aims of the Berkeley free speech movement have been corrupted into a determination to humiliate the University of California administration, according to semanticist S. I. Hayakawa, of Mill Valley.

Consequently, he said, the FSM has communicated to the general public an image of the university as a place where students are more interested in demonstrating than in conducting rational discourse.

PUBLIC LECTURE

Hayakawa, author and lecturer on general semantics and a professor at San Francisco State College, discussed the Berkeley dispute in a public lecture yesterday on the state college campus.

He said he agreed with the ultimate objectives of the FSM as originally stated — "That there should be absolute freedom of speech on a campus such as that of the University of California."

But in the past few days, he said, that purpose seems to have been lost in the FSM's continued rejection of administration concessions.

"The state of mind of the FSM is not that of people seeking agreement," he said, "but of people at war with the administration."

Hayakawa said militant demonstrations such as those conducted by the FSM have no place on a university campus because they involve suspension of the thinking process "in favor of marching the streets bearing placards aloft."

"NOBLE, PURE"

It makes you feel noble and pure, and it's a hell of a lot more fun than studying," he said.

He also accused the FSM of engaging in civil disobedience without giving mature thought to the responsibilities involved in such action. He said the FSM deliberately breaks the law, and then demands amnesty instead of trying to communicate its message through acceptance of punishment.

"The FSM wants credit for martyrdom without martyrdom," he said. "This is rotten."

Vote By Faculty Backs Students' Speech Proposal

Uproar At U.C. Subsides Regents Still Must Vote

BERKELEY (UPI)—The "Free Speech" uproar on the University of California campus subsided today after the faculty sided with students demanding the right to freely advocate on campus any cause—legal or illegal, violent or non-violent.

If the proposal, approved by the faculty yesterday in an 825 to 115 vote, is accepted by the university administration and by the board of regents, no rules will be enforced on campus political activity and speech except those dealing with the "time, place and manner" of such activity. Those aspects will be regulated only to the extent necessary "to prevent interference with the normal function of the university."

Leaders of the student revolt which brought near chaos to the campus in the last week hailed the decision of the Academic Senate, the official organization of the permanent faculty.

The "free speech movement" approved the faculty proposal "with deep gratitude." Mario Savio, its chief spokesman, said he "could not imagine the regents overruling an 8-1 vote by the Academic Senate."

But President Clark Kerr said the faculty proposal "involves such basic changes in the policies affecting all campuses of the university" that he would not comment further on it until he has met with the 17 other regents. Their next meeting is scheduled to be held in Los Angeles Dec. 18.

At their last meeting, the regents liberalized rules on political activity on campus but insisted that the university would not permit the campus "to be used as a base for organizing illegal activity."

Last night the FSM called off its demonstrations, but Savio issued a warning that unless the regents accept the faculty proposal there could be more trouble.

When the decision of the Academic Senate was announced, thousands of students who had gathered on the campus broke into a cheer. They held an impromptu street dance around a Christmas tree in the plaza which has been the focal point of the "free speech" rallies.

One of the key points of the faculty proposal was that there should be "no university disciplinary measures against members of the organizations of the university community" for activities prior to yesterday.

Savio said afterward he hoped the faculty will go farther than that and try to have criminal charges dropped against 768 students who were arrested for an all-night sit-in last week.

"I can't imagine the state punishing these people who have done this great thing for the university," he said.

The student rebel leader said the free speech movement will become a defense committee for the arrested students. Savio said he is dropping out of school himself for this semester in order "to study," but will register again next year.

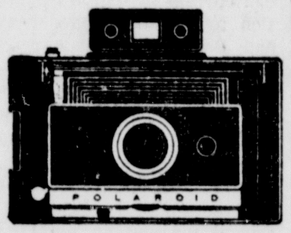

During the faculty debates last night, a suggestion that the university continue to regulate campus activity aimed at "immediate force or violence" was turned down. Philosophy professor Lewis Feuer argued that without such a restriction the campus could become a base for the Ku Klux Klan.

PLANNERS PASS SEVERAL SIGNS

But San Rafael Group Slams Down Hard On Building With No Permit

San Rafael Planning Commission, its power over business sign building trimmed by city council, quickly approved several signs last night, but slammed down hard on signmaker Robert Bohanna when he bypassed the commission altogether.

Bohanna, requesting a use permit for five small illuminated signs in the Loch Lomond Shopping Center, presented the commission with a fait accomplis: He had already put the signs up.

Upon learning this, commissioner Charles J. Hendrickson immediately moved denial of the request.

"You come crying to us about outsiders doing just what you've done," said Hendrickson, apparently referring to one of the Marin Neon Co. owner's many disputes with the commission in recent months.

"But you haven't had to put up with the things I've had to put up with," said Bohanna. He has maintained that signs should not be brought under architectural approval procedure by the commission and the city council last week decided that signs should be exempt from architectural approval, except for safety factors.

As to why he built the signs before receiving approval, Bohanna told the commission: "I have been out of business in San Rafael for about two months. I thought they were so small there would be no objection."

All illuminated signs require a use permit in that area, and this was not a question of architectural approval. Before he learned that the signs were already up, City Planning Director George H. Rodgers recommended approval of the use permit request.

The commission voted unanimously to deny the request.

Three other signs up for architectural approval last night, including two by Bohanna, were passed without reference to esthetic considerations, in line with the council policy.

A four-by-six foot illuminated revolving sign for Carabao of Marin at 1852 Fourth Street, to be built by Bohanna, would clearly have had a tough time getting by before the council decision. Planning Director Rodgers disapproved of it and some commissioners also had reservations about the sign.

Two other signs approved were a five-by-five foot illuminated projecting sign at Landes Furs, 1125 Fourth Street, to be built by Bohanna, and an illuminated lettering sign, twenty-five inches high and fourteen feet wide, to be attached to a projecting marquee at Modern Eve, 1021 Fourth Street.

Bureau Picks Judges For Yule Contest

The Marin Visitors Bureau has named district judges in its Christmas decoration contest, part of the bureau's "Christmas in Marin" program.

As in the past, a $100 grand prize will be given by the Independent-Journal to makers of the best overall decoration, to be chosen by a jury headed by Donald Ronshimer, president of the San Rafael Junior Chamber of Commerse.

Entries will be judged in these categories: residential, individual city or public buildings, street lighting, neighborhoods, shopping districts, yacht harbors, individual yachts and special gold ribbons to outstanding decorations by children under 14.

Electrical appliances and ribbons will be given to winners at first level judging.

Board Agrees On Joint Plan Consideration

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker described it as "a red letter day in planning in Marin."

Joint consideration of the plan, which includes unincorporated area, was proposed Monday by Leydecker and San Rafael Mayor John F. McInnis.

"We've got to get to the point of exchange of ideas and thoughts and bring legislative bodies and planning commissions together," Leydecker said.

Planning coordination "makes a great deal of sense," he said. Some of the county's plans covering the unincorporated area in San Rafael General Plan are out of date and complete, Leydecker said.

Supervisors requested the county planning staff to make arrangements with the San Rafael planning staff to initiate steps for joint consideration.

The San Rafael General Plan includes unincorporated areas which are the probably ultimate boundaries of the city.

Seashore Due A New Ranger

Robert D. Barbee, formerly of Yosemite National Park, has been selected to fill a newly established park ranger position at Point Reyes National Seashore.

Barbee, his wife, Carol, and three pre-school daughters, will live at the Bear Valley Headquarters after he completes a three-month ranger naturalist training course at the Horace M. Albright training center at Grand Canyon National Park.

A graduate of Colorado State University where he majored in natural science and forest recreation, Barbee has been in the National Park Service at Carlsbad Caverns, Rocky Mountain and in Yosemite.

Tomales Sewer District Is Urged Of Supervisors

Marin County supervisors were urged yesterday to consider establishing a sewage treatment district in the Tomales Bay to preserve the bay from pollution.

The county has an opportunity to plan ahead of development to prevent situations that have destroyed other bays, Joel W. Hedgpeth, director of the University of Pacific's Marine Station at Dillon Beach, said in a letter to the board.

Hedgpeth suggested that thought be given to a master plan of Tomales Bay that will provide an adequate sewage treatment plant for the entire area.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker said the board could not force anyone to form a sanitary district, but there could be "educational groundwork."

The board referred the suggestion to the department of public works, planning department and county administrator for study.

Supervisors Rap Pollution Of Lagoon

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday supported the Regional Water Pollution Control Board's move to halt discharge of treated sewage into or near the Bolinas Lagoon.

"The lagoon is a natural resource and I'm not going to stand by and see some little sanitary district muck it up," said Supervisor Peter H. Behr.

Behr explained that he wasn't referring to Stinson Beach which he described as "progressive," but noted that it was "time Bolinas woke up."

Solutions have been offered and they have not been acted upon, he said. "The water pollution control board has been overpatient."

The County Parks and Recreation Commission also announced its support of the water pollution control board's stand.

The recommendations of the board and the commission will be presented to the water pollution control board Dec. 17.

Three Tiburon Peninsula youths were having a fine time yesterday on a rickety old life raft, using boards for oars in Richardson Bay, about a third of a mile from the shoreline along Tiburon Boulevard. Candidates Reveal Campaign Expenses

All elected candidates for the Marin County Board of Supervisors filed campaign expenses with the county clerk's office by the deadline yesterday, and one candidate revealing a whopping $8,767.60 in personal contribution toward his victory.

The candidate with the largest personal contribution was Fusselman's opponent, Ernest N. Kettenhofen. His statement showed he received a total for donations of $2,606 from others, and donated the $8,767.60 himself, making a final figure of $11,373.60.

Kettenhofen spent the same amount for the campaign, his statement disclosed.

Other candidate statements were:

Thomas T. Storer, elected to the Fourth District, donations by others, $2,241.40; by himself, $426.24, making a total of $2,667.64, with a like amount listed as spent.

George H. Ludy, unsuccessful in the Fourth District race, received $3,265 from others, spent $1,461.35 himself, making a total of $4,726.35. His campaign costs were that exact amount.

Byron W. Leydecker, elected to the First District, received a total of $17,270 and spent $16,207.74.

John F. McInnis, unsuccessful candidate against Leydecker, received $8,736.20 from others and donated $1,020 himself, making a total of $9,755.35, with a figure of $9,737.56 spent.

Vera L. Schultz in the state senator's race for the 13th District, shows she received $12,668 in contributions, donated $3,299.40 herself, a total of $15,967.40, and spent $15,585.84.

John F. McCarthy, who defeated her, received $10,916.67 from others, donated $907.45 himself, making a total of $11,824.12, and spent that amount.

Donald H. Clausen, successful candidate for the First Congressional District, is required to file expenses with the California Secretary of State's office, according to George H. Gnoss, Marin County Clerk. A duplicate will probably be received by Gnoss's office at a later date.

Stafford Lake Park Group Member Named

Councilman Lucile Cannon last night was named to a county committee to work for a park at Stafford Lake, by the Novato City Council.

The council also requested that the Novato Parks and Recreation Advisory Commission recommend one of its members for the committee.

The Novato council proposed at its Nov. 17 meeting that the Marin County Board of Supervisors form a committee to work on getting a park at Stafford Lake. The council proposed that the committee be composed of two members from the county, two from Novato and one from the North Marin County Water District.

Supervisor William Gnoss and Mrs. Elizabeth Davies were named to the committee by the supervisors on Nov. 24.

Judge Plans To Stall Rail Strike

CHICAGO (UPI)—U. S. District Court Judge Joseph Sam Perry announced today he would issue a temporary restraining order blocking a threatened nationwide rail strike for at least 10 days.

Perry said he would issue the restraining order Monday, the day before three unions representing more than 50,000 shopcraft railworkers had threatened to go on strike which could cripple the nation's rail system.

Perry said the restraining order would stay in effect for 10 days while he further studies the railroads' plea for a permanent ban against the walkout.

Terra Linda Fire Chief Resigns Job

Asst. Chief George Walser, a fulltime employee, will then become chief, succeeding Flaherty, one of the founders of the Terra Linda Fire Department.

Flaherty, who has been chief since April, 1958, will remain with the department as a volunteer fireman.

The department has grown to the point where it must have a fulltime chief, Flaherty said.

Flaherty also said he will resign his post as fire commissioner Jan. 12.

Flaherty will be honored at a New Year's Eve party to be sponsored by the Terra Linda Parks and Recreation Commission at the recreation center.

The CSD board also approved the appointment of Brian Caldwell as a paid fireman starting Jan. 1, bringing the paid staff up to three men, Walser, fireman Robert Kelley and Caldwell.

Lawmaker Officers To Europe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Seven House members who are Navy or Marine Corps reserves are taking their annual two-week active duty training in Europe, accompanied by 31 congressional staff members who are in the same unit.

They left Nov. 29 and are due back in Washington on Dec. 18 after being in Europe and military assistance groups in Greece, Turkey and Portugal.

Rep. William S. Mailliard (R-Calif.), a Navy captain, is commanding officer.

Other congressmen, and their ranks, on the trip include:

Holiday Pay Petitions Withdrawn

San Rafael police and firemen agreed last night to withdraw temporarily their campaign to ask the city's voters to give them paid holidays.

Meeting as the "Joint Fire and Police Assn.," the two groups voted to take back their notice of intention to circulate petitions, filed last week at the city clerk's office.

Present at the session was Nelson C. Green of 215 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, whose signature was attached to the notice. Since he filed it, he is the only one who can withdraw it.

The action came at the request of the city council, whose members expressed dismay Monday night over the fact they had not been notified before the action was taken.

Councilmen showed sympathy for the police and firemen's wishes, and some said they would like the chance to consider passing the ordinance themselves, thus eliminating the need for an election.

But they also said they would like to have time to draft a formal statement of opposition (for attachment to the petitions) if they so decided. They would have to do so this week if the documents were not withdrawn.

Deputy City Clerk W. Clifford Cornwell said the notice had not yet been picked up at noon today.

It is a short distance west of Yuba Gap, where the City of San Francisco was snowbound for four days in January 1952 with 222 passengers aboard.

Conductor Harry Miller of Sacramento, who was aboard the only passenger car that turned over, suffered a cut leg.

"It was shaky, sort of rock and roll, like you were in a boat," he said.

Miller said the train was doing about 30 miles an hour when the derailment occurred.

He said it felt like "a minor earthquake," and those aboard were "pretty lucky."

"I've been in a few small derailments before, but nothing like this one." He suffered a slight knee cut.

Kramer said there would have been more serious injuries if a heavy load of Christmas mail had not been placed near the front of the train. Normally a mail car carrying eight crewmen would have been at the front and would have gone over first.

west of Las Gallinas Avenue and north of Lucas Valley Road.

Last week Leydecker described the development as "critical" because it is the first hillside development in the Marinwood-Lucas Valley area and could set precedent.

One of the conditions was that the developer eliminate a lot to accomplish the required greenbelt area. The board approved "daylighting" of the hill, but only because the alternative was to allow development in the green belt at the lower portion of the development.

Homestead Valley Club Nominates

Bernard M. Weinstein was nominated last night for president of the Homestead Valley Improvement Club to serve in 1965.

HEARING

that Baker helped in getting the check cashed, committeemen have been curious as to whether there could be some connection with big Baker profits while he was secretary of the Senate's Democratic majority.

Questioning of Jenkins will be about circumstances of sale of advertising to a life insurance agent who has testified that Jenkins brought pressure to patronize a television station by President Lyndon B. Johnson's family in Austin, Tex.

The salesman testified he didn't need the advertising, having already made a sale to Johnson before he became president. Jenkins has said he knew nothing of how the sale was made.

Saxon's testimony might, it was thought, add some facts to testimony yesterday about the San Rafael bank payment. Among 41 questions Bromley declined to answer was whether he has shared his $5,000 fee with Baker.

But a committee investigator, Samuel Scott, said Bromley earlier told him that none of the money went to Baker. No testimony thus far has shown what either Bromley or Baker did for the bank and the bank attitude is that it hired Bromley as a routine legal action without knowing anything about Baker.

Scott's testimony indicated that Bromley had use for the whole sum paid by the bank. He said Bromley had told him that half of the $5,000 from San Rafael had paid off most of a $3,000 debt to the Carroll Arms, a hotel with restaurant and bar near the Senate Office Building.

"He (Bromley) said he wasted some of the rest of the money," Scott testified, "and used what was left to buy furnishings for a new house he had bought."

Bromley's explanation to Scott, according to the latter, with reference to cashing the check with Baker's aid and endorsement was that "he didn't want his wife to know about the money, particularly how he spent it."

This oblique way of ascertaining the Bromley story was necessitated by the view of Bromley's attorney that since Bromley is now under several investigations including those of Internal Revenue and a federal grand jury, anything he now said might become self-incriminating.

Bromley expressed the opinion that the committee lacked authority to question him, anyhow. To give more than his name and address might provide a link through which other investigators could build up a story, Bromley declared while adding that he denied guilt "of any legal or moral wrongdoing."

Committee members tried hard to tie Baker into the Redwood Bank's retention of Bromley in questioning Maurice Hughett, former Senate employee on whose recommendation Bromley was retained.

Sen. John Sherman Cooper (R-Ky.) suggested: "You recommended him because you believed in some way Baker would come into the deal" while committee counsel Lennox P. McLendon suggested that a reason for the recommendation was that "you knew that he knew Baker."

"That was probably one of the reasons," Hughett replied. "I presumed he would talk to Baker"—but added he didn't know Baker actually helped or shared the fee.

The newly reopened investigation will be kept running into the new Congress which convenes next month, said Sen. B. Everett Jordan (D-N.C.).

TOLLS

decided that the proposal to lower bus fares to 13 cents should be considered at another meeting. Hardcastle said he would present this proposal before the full board Friday morning.

During the discussion, Marin's other director, Leland S. Murphy of Inverness suggested that commuter rates be raised to such an extent that auto commuters would be forced to use buses. Murphy added: "This probably won't make me popular with the commuters." Murphy's term expires on Dec. 27. He will be succeeded by outgoing Supervisor George H. Ludy, also of Inverness.

San Francisco director Joseph J. Diviny led the fight against Hardcastle's proposal to oppose Greyhound's fare raise. "I don't think we have any more right to oppose a rate increase for Greyhound any more than we have of appearing before the PUC to oppose truck rates, for example," said Diviny.

He declared that "it is not within our province to interfere with rates established by a governmental agency such as the PUC."

Director Alvin F. Derre of San Francisco seconded Diviny's motion opposing Greyhound's fare increase.

Douglas J. Maloney, Marin County counsel, speaking as attorney for the Marin Transit District, agreed with Hardcastle that if commuters can be induced to ride buses instead of private cars it would help the bridge District in cutting bridge congestion.

Gerald H. Trautman, vice president and general counsel for Greyhound Lines, contended that the 20 per cent fare increase asked by Greyhound now before the PUC would still leave the Marin County operation running at a loss.

Hardcastle said that his proposed fare cut would save Greyhound about $125,000 per year. But Trautman questioned that figure, pointing out that bridge tolls attributable to the Marin operation totalled only $117,700 in 1963. Therefore he argued that Greyhound could not possibly save $125,000 per year.

IN MEMORIAM

IN MEMORIUM

KIRNER, RAYMOND—In loving memory of our dear husband and father RAYMOND KIRNER, who passed away one year ago today.

Watch over us from above, dear heart,
Protect us here below;
Guide us always in the path
As you would want us to go;
Take our hands when days are dark,
Comfort us when we cry;
Walk besides us in this weary life
Until the day we die.
And when the hour draws near for us
We know you will be there
To take our hands and bring us
With you up to that better land;
A land that's free from tears and strife,
A paradise, a heavenly lane;
You will put your arms around us,
And we will never part again.

Board Votes $17,000 For Courtroom

Marin County Supervisors yesterday approved a plan for dividing an existing courtroom to provide a courtroom for Superior Court Judge Samuel W. Gardiner.

The board approved the estimated expenditure of $17,000 and called for bids on the job of dividing Judge Richard M. Sims courtroom at the courthouse annex into two courtrooms.

Judge Gardiner, who had been moved from place to place to conduct court sessions, sent the county notice that he would order construction of a courtroom, as provided by a little-used law, if the county did not provide one for him.

Formerly there were three superior court departments and three courtrooms, but with Judge Gardiner's appointment there was a fourth department without a courtroom.

Course Completed

Pvt. Edward M. Callagy, son of Mrs. California C. Webb of 2555 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Fairfax, has completed the basic Army administration course at Fort Ord. Private Callagy, a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School, entered the Army in August.

Mrs. Jones Says She Needs $3,015 A Month Support

Janet Jones, suing her millionaire San Leandro husband, Preston, for divorce, needs $3,015 a month to support herself and their 10-year-old son in a manner in which they are accustomed.

This was the figure—a total of $36,180 yearly—given yesterday in a Marin Superior Courtroom by her attorneys, W. O. Weissich and Wallace S. Myers. Weissich said this amount could include her income from divided properties and other sources, including alimony and child support.

He added that from this monthly figure, Mrs. Jones, 42, would have to pay about $600 income taxes.

Mrs. Jones, who resides at 16 Marina Way in San Rafael and is plaintiff and cross-defendant in the trial, testified before Judge Samuel W. Gardiner that she seeks sufficient settlement from her husband to permit her and the boy to take frequent trips — to ski, to Europe, to go where they like.

In addition, she said, she is fond of entertaining.

A tape recording, made secretly by Mrs. Jones in 1962 shortly before she filed for the divorce, revealed that over an eight-year period, Mrs. Jones wrote checks totalling $150,000. it also disclosed that Jones, owner of Prescolite Manufacturing Co., bought her a house and furniture for $120,000.

Contractor Group Elects Marinites

Two Marin County men have been elected to hold office in the northern and central California chapter of the Associated General Contractors of America during 1965.

Re-elected vice president of the heavy engineering division was John F. O'Connell of 665 Goodhill Road, Kentfield. Charles R. Graff of 906 West California Avenue, Homestead Valley, this year's president, was elected chapter treasurer.

San Rafael High Sets Yule Fete

San Rafael High School's orchestra and a cappella choir will present a Christmas program at 8 p.m. next Wednesday in the school auditorium.

The program, dedicated to the school's Parent Teacher Assn., will include music by Mozart, Beethoven, Mendelssohn and Malotte.

Native Sons Party

The Christmas party of Mount Tamalpais Parlor 64, Native Sons of the Gold West, will be held in conjunction with Marinita Parlor 198 at the Portuguese-American Hall in San Rafael from 7 p.m. next Monday.

Marin To See Eclipse Of Luna

If the weather man allows, Marin residents will be able to join with millions of other North Americans in watching a total eclipse of the moon the evening of Dec. 18.

Astronomers at the Morrison Planetarium in San Francisco's Golden Gate Park say the period of total eclipse will last for an hour, starting at 6:07 p.m.

It will be the last total lunar eclipse visible on the West coast until Oct. 18, 1967, and the last visible throughout the nation until April, 1968.

Next week's spectacle will be seen all over the United States and Canada where clouds do not interfere.

Mud Clean Up Is Ordered In Hub

Mud and muck that have been slithering down onto The Alameda and Berkeley Avenue in San Anselmo must be cleaned up immediately and kept cleaned, the San Anselmo City Council declared last night.

Councilmen asked City Administrator Douglas J. Flautt to take immediate action, after a delegation of residents complained that mud from the Indian Rock subdivision at the end of The Alameda is causing an intolerable situation.

Leading the protest delegation were Mrs. Donald Corriea of 84 The Alameda, Mrs. Dave Lucas of 2 Berkeley Avenue, and Mrs. William Cox of 75 The Alameda.

Their voices were bolstered by a letter from the San Anselmo Homes Assn., signed by president Tom Stoddard and vice president Dene A. Henry Jr.

The association asked for stricter excavation laws to prevent future mud and slide damage and called on the city to have the developer pay for the cost of cleaning streets and repairing damage.

"Del May (the developer) will be billed for the clean up job," Flautt assured the council.

Mrs. Corriea complained that the roads have been cleaned up, but trucks keep dropping more mud, and the streets become slimy again. She said she slipped and fell twice while trying to get mail from the mailbox.

"I was under the impression the street was cleaned up," said Mayor William Franchini.

"They did clean it up, but the mud comes right back and stands that way for a month," said the agreement was that Mrs. Corriea explained. She trucks would use Broadmoor Avenue, but they still run up and down The Alameda.

Other residents reported that the area from 70 The Alameda to 2 Berkeley Avenue is a slippery mess.

"If the trucks drop mud, they should be made to clean it up right away, not a month from now," declared Mayor Franchini.

City councilmen asked the administrator to take care of the problem immediately.

However, the overall problem of preventing mud slides in future excavations is a more difficult one, the councilmen pointed out.

Charles R. Leitzeil of the planning commission said his commission plans to review the excavation ordinance along with the subdivision ordinance.

Leitzeil observed that laws prohibiting excavation after a certain time of the year will not be effective because it is the lack of drainage improvements and paving that are causing the problem, not the excavation itself.

Bench Design On Rec Agenda

The Belvedere Recreation Commission will consider designs for the benches to be placed along San Rafael Avenue at its next meeting, Jan. 12 at the Belvedere Community Hall.

Two directors, meeting informally last night for lack of a quorum, agreed to seek a college student as recreation director some afternoons for teenage activities at the hall. William Allender, the present recreation director, now has time only to direct the twice-monthly dances.

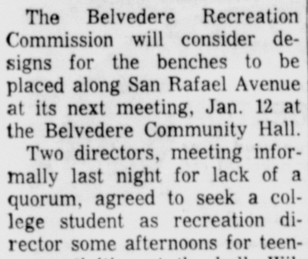

At the meeting last night were commission chairman Charles Auerbach and Mrs. Edward R. Rice III.

Fines Are Given For Drunk Driving

Two men were fined $276 each and sentenced to five days in Marin County Jail yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving.

They are Robert Elmer Martinez, 57, Petaluma, arrested Nov. 27 on Highway 101, and Francis Robert Spade, 30, Hamilton Air Force Base, arrested Dec. 4 in Novato. Both were apprehended by Novato police and have prior drunken driving convictions.

Ludy Sits Last Time As County Board Member

Supervisor George H. Ludy of Inverness attended his last session as a supervisor yesterday.

Ludy, who was defeated for the post by Thomas T. Storer in the November election, said he is going to take a trip to Mexico and will miss the next two board meetings.

Ludy would have been back in time to attend the Dec. 29 session, but the board voted yesterday to cancel it in view of the holidays.

Experts Warn Another Big Earthquake To Hit State

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—About 200 scientists and engineers agreed yesterday that California is destined to undergo another devastating earthquake — but none would venture a guess as to when it might occur.

The experts reached their conclusion at the closing session of a two-day conference on earthquakes and geologic hazards sponsored by the California Resources Agency.

They agreed a quake at least as powerful as the one that left San Francisco in ruins in 1906 would inevitably come, but said it could be tomorrow or not for years.

The experts also agreed that not enough was being done to prepare for the great temblor. They said there had not been enough research in building standards, hazards prevention or establishment of monitoring systems.

John A. Blume, a San Francisco earthquake engineer, said far too much construction in California is being undertaken without proper engineering studies of foundation soils.

He said buildings constructed on poor foundation soils were much more susceptible to damage from earthquakes.

Directors of the Greenbrae Property Owners Assn. last night voted to increase the annual dues from the present $3 per person to $5 next year.

The board also picked Pete Gottheiner, Victory Donati, A. L. Horstmeyer Jr. and Arne Dreyer to serve on a nominations committee to select a slate of candidates for the board of directors for 1965, and called for volunteers to serve as officers.

LONG CORRIDOR—The big corridor in the old E Street School is given decorative interest through display cases that hold pupil art works. Area across the hall where lockers were has been converted to storage shelves with sliding panels.

Open House To Show Off Headquarters Of Schools

An open house to show the $40,000 conversion job to the public has been scheduled from 3 to 5:30 p.m. tomorrow. The invitations have already gone out, but last-minute work was still in progress as late as last Friday.

Both administrative offices and offices for special services such as music and art teachers, psychologists and speech therapists are now housed in E Street School. The special service people have been in the old school for some time, but the conversion project switched them around and improved their surroundings considerably.

The administrative offices have moved from the old administrative office at San Rafael High School. That building has been converted into two classrooms and a warehouse.

All administrative offices except the district maintenance department, which remains at the high school, are now at E Street School.

Much of the conversion job was done with the district's own staff of maintenance men. The work to chop off the south end of the main building and rebuild the roof there to make way for the extension of Third Street was a contract job.

The district's own labor was not counted in the cost of the conversion project, Business Manager Charles L. Condrotte explained.

He reported Oct. 21 that the cost of the job, excluding district labor, came to $40,834. This included materials, some extra labor and $24,700 for the contract to but back and rebuild the south end of the building.

The building was rewired, new light fixtures installed, partitions added, walls covered with Philippine mahogany panels and vinyl, floors refinished, both the interior and exterior repainted and the heating system converted from oil to gas.

The school play yard was converted to a parking lot for 58 cars and the grounds were landscaped.

Many of the light fixtures installed were salvaged from the classroom demolition project at San Rafael High School.

Work still in progress last week included refinishing the floor in the auditorium, which is to serve as the meeting chamber for the San Rafael Board of Education.

Work still to be done included refurbishing of the reception room to the left of the main entrance and acoustical flooring for the psychologists' offices.

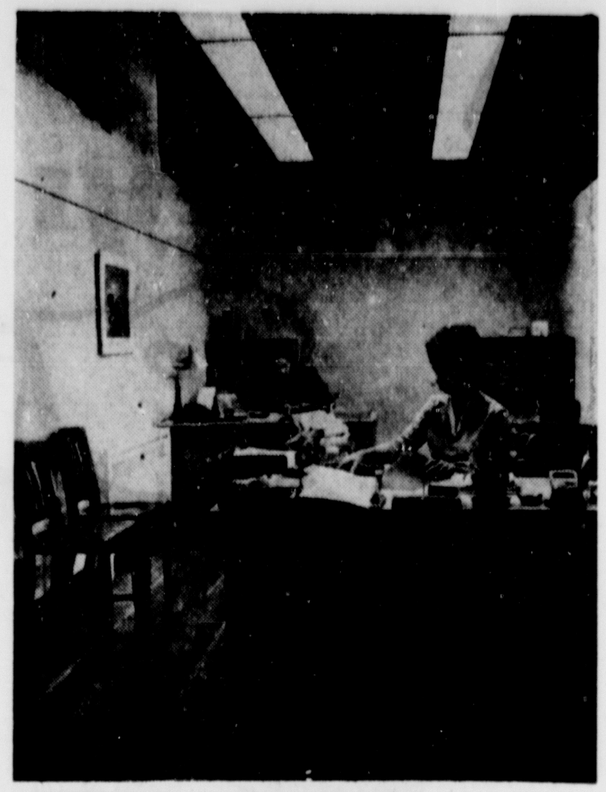

Visitors Thursday will find the personnel office, reception room and telephone room, business manager's office, accounting office, coffee room, art, speech and more advanced learner offices on the east side of the school.

On the west side are the assistant superintendents' office, superintendent's office, professional library, staff conference room, remedial reading room and music room.

Next to the auditorium at the southwest corner of the building is the printing room and storage room. There is also a small kitchen that will be tied into the auditorium.

Downstairs is the curriculum library and the textbook library.

Tomorrow's visitors may tour the building and have refreshments in the auditorium.

RECEPTION ROOM—This room is shared as the reception room for visitors to both the assistant superintendents of San Rafael Schools in the recently converted E Street School. (Independent-Journal photos)

Beginning Of Return Of Crabs Is Forecast

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Beginning of the return of the crabs was forecast today by a Sausalito crab wholesaler.

However, another crab handler would not go that far but said the season in Oregon this year is 100 per cent better than last year, thus causing Bay Area crab prices to drop by 20 to 40 cents per pound.

"This is the first time in four years we have the promise of a substantial increase in crab production to the north," said Hoyt Barnett, manager of Casserino's Fisherman's Wharf. "Prospects are good."

He spoke of a fisherman coming into Brookings, Ore., a few days ago with 12,000 pounds which, he said, "is very good."

He said that by trucking crab from Oregon to Sausalito he will be able to drop the wholesale price from 42 to 35 cents per pound which can mean weekend consumer prices of about 72 cents per pound.

Barnett's theory, which he said is pure conjecture, is that the vast invasion of warmer waters seven years ago had a very definite bearing upon the decline of crab production. "Now," he said, "I believe the currents are returning more nearly to normal. The first area that would respond to the change of current would be the one farthest away from the Equator, the northern waters."

"Now we're getting a really good crop out of Oregon and we have hopes we will have a good Northern California return."

He explained that the California season, from Point Arena south opened in mid-November and it was described by most fishermen as the same as last year — bad. Oregon's season opened Dec. 1. The season opens Dec. 15 for fishermen to crab from Point Arena to the Oregon-California line.

"There is a very good showing off Brookings," said S. J. Sturiale, owner of Sturiale Fish Co. in Marinship. Boats coming in have anywhere from 3,000 to 10,000 pounds and the crabs are better than last year. They are full and good size and hardly any soft shells, he said.

He said the wholesale is about 30 to 35 cents and prices are 60 to 80 cents to the consumer as compared with earlier prices of $1 a pound.

Asked his theory on the better season in Oregon, Sturiale replied he has been in the business 40 years and has seen a number of scarcities. "We may have the same thing next year in San Francisco waters but no one knows." He discounted Barnett's change of currents theory.

Cass Gidley, owner of Casserino's, went on record Nov. 6 saying the crabs, as the sardines, were disappearing and that something should be done about putting something back into the ocean and funds earmarked by the state to do crab fishery marine research.

He said there are too many fishermen and too many crab pots.

Horseman Group To Seat Slate

Millard Wallace will be installed as president of the Novato Horsemen's Assn. at a dinner party Saturday night at the horsemen's club on Bugeia Lane, Novato.

The cocktail hour will start at 7 p.m., with dinner at 8 p.m.

Other officers to be installed include: Fred Miller as vice president; Linda Poliquin, secretary; Arthur Born, treasurer, and Gladys Brough, corresponding secretary.

New board members are Wallace, Clara Thomas, Betty Cullins, Walter Goldsmith, John Hogan and Gloria Scott.

Reed Schools Board Position Still A-Begging

No applications have yet been received by officials of the Reed Union School District from persons who want to be appointed to fill the vacancy on the school board.

The board must appoint a successor to Richard J. MacLaury by Jan. 11, which is 60 days after his resignation due to the pressure of his law practice.

The board is seeking someone who would be appointed to fill out MacLaury's term to April and who then would be willing to run for election.

Interested persons may call board president Mrs. Alyce Farkas, 94 Granada Drive, Corte Madera, or board members David Ring, Tiburon; Mrs. Marilyn Steinau, Belvedere, or Leo Souza, Tiburon.

Hub Council Will Seek New Laws

San Anselmo will ask state and federal representatives for action on a new design for Corte Madera Creek flood control, updating of plans for a road to West Marin, and state regulations on community television antennas.

City Administrator Douglas J. Flautt suggested that these three proposals be presented at a public forum which will be held at the Civic Center on Friday, Dec. 18.

State Sen. John F. McCarthy invited the city to present its suggestions for new legislation at the forum. Congressman Don H. Clausen and Assemblyman William T. Bagley will join McCarthy in listening to suggestions from various cities, organizations and cities.

The forum will start at 10 a.m. and end about 4 p.m.

Most of the San Anselmo city fathers will be unable to attend the forum because of the busy holiday season, but Flautt and possibly Councilman Cedric Clute said they would represent the city.

The San Anselmo City Counil Also:

1. Asked City Atty. John G. Buresh to draft a resolution changing fire zones as recommended by Fire Chief Frank Souza. The principal change is on the west side of the downtown area, from behind Rexall Drug Store and behind Safeway, toward Cedar Avenue. That area will become fire zone 2 instead of fire zone 1. Downtown area will remain zone 1, and residential areas zone 3.

2. Approved a "Season's Greetings" street banner to be put up on Florence Avenue during December. G. L. Cruthers of 9 Florence Avenue said residents of the block will put up the sign to express the Christmas spirit.

3. Canceled insurance on an unused dairy barn at the city corporation yard, and dropped the "mercantile robbery and safe burglary" policy for the city hall. Since the city does not collect taxes any more, the city never has more than $250 in the safe, Administrator Flautt reported. The two cancellations save the city $232 per year in premiums.

4. Granted Mrs. Ken Ogata of 132 Butterfield Road permission to extend her front yard fence slightly into the city street right of way so that children will have more play area.

5. Gave J. J. Stewart permission to fill and grade a portion of the street in front of his lot at the end of Allyn Avenue so that he will have parking space and a turnaround.

6. Adopted a new library ordinance that updates the old one and clarifies the duties of library trustees and the city.

7. Decided to cancel the Dec. 22 meeting of the city council because the date is too close to Christmas. Next regular meeting will be Jan. 12.

Chamber Elects New Officers

B. J. Talbot was elected president of the Tiburon Peninsula Chamber of Commerce at the group's luncheon meeting yesterday at the Dock Restaurant.

He replaces Edward P. Ward. Edwin A. Gratonik was elected vice president; Mrs. Evelyn Pirroz, secretary; Allan P. Gibson, treasurer. Mrs. Mimi Bertic-evich was elected to a two-year term as a director.

George Bitter was named chairman of a committee to study the business license ordinance now under consideration by the city council.

Young Spouse Tangles With Wife, Police

A marital argument in a San Anselmo apartment led to the 19-year-old head of the household being booked by police on five charges at 8:50 p.m. yesterday.

San Anselmo police said Adolph James Silva, 19, of 25 Ancho Vista Avenue, was charged with assault and battery, disturbing the peace, resisting arrest and assaulting an officer.

Police were called to the apartment at 8:20 p.m. by Silva's wife, Christini, who said he had hit her over the left eye.

Mrs. Silva then told officers she would forget about signing a citizens arrest if her husband would leave the apartment. That would have ended the matter, but Silva refused to leave.

Officers said they told him he was under arrest, but the youth still refused to budge. They called another officer to help when he started swinging.

Police said Silva was finally subdued with a billy club. He was taken to jail, where he complained at 10 p.m. of his head wounds. Deputies said they took him to San Rafael General Hospital for treatment of superficial cuts.

Archeological discoveries indicate that the Norsemen brought women who attended to household tasks while their husbands sought — unsuccessfully — to carve out a permanent settlement in "Vinland" some 500 years before Columbus's voyages.

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Pacific Gas and Electric Co. has received the applause of Hugo Fisher, state administrator of resources.

The utility said it would agree to a proposal by the Sonoma County Board of Supervisors that the land be leased to the county for recreational purposes.

Tam Valley Sanitary Director Resigns

Resignation of Robert D. Smith, director of the Tamalpais Valley Sanitary District Board, was accepted last night by the board. Smith is moving to Southern California.

The board adjourned to Dec. 15 to go over the engineer's amended report on the Tamalpais Woods Assessment District and to decide on bids for the district's proposed new office building, according to director Gale E. Bishel.

Football Pool Pays $844,869

LONDON (UPI) — Lawrence Freedman, whose 70-cent bet in a football pool brought him a record $844,869, plans to invest the money "in the best and safest way I can."

Freedman, 54, director of a trading stamp company here, accepted his check last night after bracing himself with three scotches.

"This is the biggest deal I have ever pulled off," he observed. "I am going home for a good night's sleep."

Freedman, married and the father of one, won the fortune by correctly forecasting the football results last weekend.

Asked what he would do with the money, Freedman replied: "I shan't buy a new car, I've just got one. I am going to invest it in the best and safest way I can."

He said he had no "system" of picking winners and last week had "filled in my coupon as I always do every Thursday."

These Twins Skip No Generations

Mrs. Schinstock has twin granddaughters and twin great-grandsons among her 29 descendants.

Planners Side With Homeowners' Protest

San Rafael Planning Commission last night sided with homeowners protesting a proposed rezoning north of Bayo Vista Way to allow construction of an apartment complex in what is now a residential zone.

The commission unanimously voted to recommend denial of the request from apartment builder Paul Sade to have about three acres rezoned from single family residential to garden apartment district.

Granting the request would have allowed Sade to build a 31-unit extension of the existing 79-unit Tropicana apartments at 100 Bayo Vista Way. Plans included a swimming pool, clubhouse and tennis court, which would have served the existing Tropicana building as well.

About 12 homeowners spoke against the rezoning and most of the residents south of Bayo Vista on Tierra Vista Way and East Crescent Drive had signed a petition against the move.

The commission recommendation now goes to the city council. This was the second public hearing on the question.

First public hearing was held on another rezoning request last night, this one to make a plan-planned community district out of a steep 6.6 acres off of Lynn Court west of Irwin Street and south of Woodland Avenue, owned by Carl A. Warden.

Warden proposes to build one four-unit and three eight-unit apartment buildings on the property with a gross area of 10,420 square feet per unit.

The area is presently zoned for single family residences occuping 10,000 and 5,000 square foot lots. Warden contends that his development would not increase the density of the area.

A second hearing on the rezoning will be held at the commission's meeting Dec. 29.

Jan. 12 and 26 were set for hearing a reqeust to rezone all the presently unclassified areas in the Terra Linda - Lucas Valley area except Draper Hill. Most of the area would be rezoned to single family residential districts with 7,500 square foot minimum lots.

Hub Stores Agree On Late Shopping Dates

More than 25 merchants of downtown San Anselmo who are members of the San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce have agreed to keep one from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. for six days of the pre-Christmas period, it was announced today.

The chosen days will be Dec. 16, 17, 18, 21, 22 and 23. Santa Claus has promised to wander among the stores during the evenings.

Bridgeway Work Will Start But Not Four Lanes

City Council Is Split Over Proposal For 'Emergency' Route

Sausalito city councilmen harmoniously chanted "four lanes, no two lanes, yes" last night in discussing proposed reconstruction of Bridgeway, but then fell to singing different tunes over how wide the rebuilt thoroughfare actually should be.

By a 3 to 2 vote, the council instructed City Engineer Beverly J. Whitlow to proceed with plans and cost estimates for a 40-foot wide thoroughfare, with parking only on the inland side, two traffic lanes and an "emergency" lane, but no parking on the bay side.

They disagreed unsuccessfully with Mayor Jan Paul Dyk's arguments that an "emergency" lane was necessary to allow passage of ambulances and fire trucks when the thoroughfare is tourist-clogged on weekends.

Whitlow himself declared that, "until proven otherwise, I feel a 32-foot right of way has as good a chance (of getting state gas tax and urban thoroughfare program matching funds) as a 40-foot one, but I'm concerned . . . with the need for an emergency lane. I'd like to see us have a chance to save even one life."

Mayor Dyk agreed with Wax and Mrs. Chapin's contention that the city's new hilltop firehouse helps solve part of the emergency traffic problem, but stressed that the heavy fire equipment remains in the low-level station, and must either negotiate Bridgeway or wind through upper streets to reach the south end of Sausalito.

More than half of the two-hour discussion was spent devising — and rejecting — ideas for holding the improvement to two lanes plus inboard parking, preserving a waterfront pedestrian walkway and fishing access, and still meeting state criteria.

Max reported that there might be two other financing sources besides state gas tax and urban thoroughfare funds. He recounted conversations with San Francisco officials, in which he learned that funds might be available through the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers or the State Department of Water Resources, on grounds that the seawall portion of the contract would be beach erosion control.

Whitlow and City Mgr. Charles Brown were instructed to check all four sources for potential approval of the city's 40-foot thoroughfare plan and how much money would be available. Mayor Dyk had proposed securing the reports in time for the council to act on one or more applications no later than June, but Brown suggested moving the report deadline up to March or April, in order to allow inclusion in the city's 1965-66 budget.

In their Dec. 1 hearing on the Bridgeway issue, the councilmen discussed four alternates presented by Whitlow, ranging from repairs of the present street with its too-narrow nine and one-half foot traffic lanes and one parking lane at an estimated cost of $92,000 to full 40-foot treatment in the neighborhood of $331,000.

Besides concern over the four-lane speed hazard and the cost—which Mayor Dyk pointed out "will be unusually heavy for a city this size," the councilmen all worried about extending the roadway too far into the bay, obliterating the narrow beach.

The Sausalito City Council Also:

1. Unanimously appointed Councilman Wax mayor pro tem to succeed Carl Gabrielson who died last week.

2. Acknowledged a planning commission recommendation that the city corporation yard be relocated to the Marinship area, but unanimously ordered negotiations to continue for a portion of the American Distilleries property at Nevada and Bridgeway or Nevada and Tomales streets. The planners, by 5-2 vote, had opposed the distillery location on grounds it was incompatible with the city's general plan.

3. Unanimously approved police department hirings to consolidate two half-time clerk positions into one fulltime job, and to employ "cadets" to man the station office on graveyard shift.

4. Appointed attorney Noble Martin to the city's library board to fill the vacancy created by the death in a Rome aircraft crash of Mrs. Dorothy Flegal.

5. Continued to Dec. 15, approval of nine-lot Mead Terrace subdivision, for redrafting of agreement calling for underground utilities and terms for creation of a "green belt" alongside one road.

6. Continued to the council's first January meeting, hearing on the appeal of United Sand and Gravel Co. for variance permit to continue operations. The applicant's attorney was unable to attend last night's continued hearing.

7. Awarded contract to lower of two bidders, W. W. Bill Lang Co. of Oakland, for resurfacing of five tennis courts at Richardson Bay School for $2,070.

8. Unanimously adopted a resolution re-stating the council's earlier demands that sudies be undertaken to prevent Bay pollution from the future San Luis Drain.

9. Decided against action, for the time being, against the alleged noise nuisance from sculptor Barney West's chain saw. City Attorney Leland Jordan explained that the district attorney's office is reluctant to press criminal prosecution under state law, and opined that the local ordinance he has prepared, if adopted, would be no more effective. He said the council could bring civil abatement under a "general nuisance" cause, but that other developments might preclude that necessity.

10. Reinstated policy of city payment of $10 per dance for special police officers on duty at monthly teen-age dances in Women's Club.

11. Declined florist Franklin Anderson's proposal to use the city's Gazebo as a pre-Christmas flower stand, on grounds that the planning commission's report on possible uses of the bus station building is still pending.

12. On motion of Mrs. Chapin, directed that library board minutes be transmitted to council members.

13. Instructed Brown to comply with state requirements continuing Marin County as a rabies endemic area.

14. Adopted a resolution expressing sorrow over Gabrielson's death, and adjourned in memory of the late councilman and the late Mrs. Flegal.

Old Mill Park Review Planned

Suggestions and criticisms will be sought from Mill Valley residents on plans for refurbishing Old Mill Park at a joint meeting Monday in City Hall at 8 p.m.

Members of the planning commission, architectural advisory committee and parks and recreation commission, will be present, according to Dean Meyer, chairman of the recreation commission.

"Walk through" of the park will be given by Eldon Beck, landscape architect. Meyer explained that about $15,000 is set aside in the parks and recreation general fund for immediate improvement of the park and complete improvements will cost between $50,000 and $70,000.

Marinite Defies Sea To Get Help

I-J Special Report

NASSAU—Skipper Dr. Charles E. Keyes of Mill Valley spent six hours Sunday in the Atlantic Ocean in a fiberglass dinghy looking for help for himself and seven people stranded when their 50-foot yawl wrecked in the Bahama Island.

The seven people, including Mrs. Keyes and Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd Benson of Sausalito, spent several hours adrift in a life raft waiting for help when the yawl, Anchorite, cracked up on a coral reef off Acklins Island at 5 a.m. Sunday.

Details of the wreck started to come from Nassau yesterday.

Dr. Keyes, skipper of the Anchorite, set out in the dinghy when it appeared the yawl would go down. The others took refuge in the life raft.

Dr. Keyes reached nearby Chester's Island six hours after he set out. He was in shock and was taken to Crooked Island for treatment. The private yacht Norma G., apparently moored at Chester's Island, set out to look for the drifting life raft and found it several hours later.

Before the Norma G found the raft, she radioed to Nassau for help and a Coast Guard plane, bearing a member of the Bahaman parliament, Basil Kelly. The plane joined the search, but the Norma G. discovered the raft first and took the seven aboard.

No one was hurt, and the Associated Press reported from Nassau today that all eight set out after a day of rest to see if the Anchorite could be recovered.

The yawl is owned by a corporation with many stockholders in Marin County. First reports came yesterday from Dr. Joseph Alderson who phoned his brother, Dr. Robert Alderson from Nassau with news of the wreck. Both Aldersons are owners of the boat.

The party was apparently headed for Puerto Rico when the wreck occured. Acklins Island is about 150 miles southeast of Nassau.

The four other passengers were Albert Sellinger of San Francisco, Bill Gorham of South San Francisco and his brother Joseph of Nebraska, and Mrs. Jo Holland, address unavailable.

Richardson Bay Dredging Suspended By Supervisors

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday suspended dredging operations in Richardson Bay off Strawberry Point for one week.

The board also agreed to consider the proposal that the county, Tiburon and the Strawberry Recreation Commission join in purchasing the tidelands being dredged.

Supervisors acted after receiving an anti-bay fill petition containing 873 signatures.

Mrs. Robert M. Allen of 301 East Strawberry Drive, who walked through the mud to serve a temporary restraining order on the dredging operator last week, presented the petition.

Attorney Stephen H. Kaufmann, representing the Strawberry Recreation District, urged the board to enact a bay-fill moratorium as an emergency measure.

The board also received a letter from the city of Tiburon expressing its interest in participating in the purchase of the tidelands property adjacent to the Salt Works Canal where the Harbor Cove Corp. is dredging.

Supervisors passed a motion that:

1. The excavation permit be suspended for a week.

2. The county counsel and the department of public works arrange for a title search and appraisal of the tidelands.

3. The board will consider participation in purchase of the property with Tiburon and the Strawberry Recreation District.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr said that a federal open space grant might provide up to 30 per cent of the cost of purchasing the tidelots.

He described the joint purchase proposal as a "rare opportunity," which the county should take advantage of.

"We have some obligation to pursue this quickly to find the answer," Behr said. "I can't recall of a city going out of its sphere to contribute."

The board also received a letter from attorney Raymond H. Shone, representing the owners of the tidelands property, stating there are no grounds for re-considering granting of the excavation permit.

Supervisors granted the permit for excavation to Bala and Strandgaard, project engineers, Oct. 20 after the applicants secured permits from the State Lands Commission and the Army Corps of Engineers.

Part of the land under consideration is adjacent to the Richardson Bay Wildlife Sanctuary under the control of the National Audubon Society.

Kaufmann said the tidelots, if purchased, could be developed for public access to the bay or for an activity that does not despoil the bay.

Novato Proposes Plans Seminar

Novato city councilmen last night discussed the possibility of a seminar for planning commissioners and councilmen from throughout Marin on the general subject of planning and master plans.

Douglas M. Merrill, councilman and former member of the Novato Planning Commission, proposed the seminar.

"There are several new members on the commission which it would help," he said.

Strep Leads List Of Marin Diseases

Thirty-six cases of streptococcic infections in Marin County were reported last week, according to Carolyn B. Albrecht, health officer.

Other cases of communicable diseases reported were four each of gonorrhea and measles, three of mumps and one each of syphilis, infectious hepatitis, and shigellosis.

Scripts Might Go Behind Iron Curtain

NEW YORK (AP) — A project for free distribution of American theater scripts and books in Iron Curtain and Far Eastern nations is being undertaken by American National Theater and Academy. It will work in collaboration with the International Theater Institute.

The idea was initiated by playwright Elmer Rice, who found wide interest in American drama but a dearth of material about it during a recent tour of Eastern Europe.

Cameras Stolen Police Learn Late

Belated report of the theft of three cameras, worth $335 to $355, from a garage was received by San Rafael police yesterday.

Prison Shoes Prove Undoing For Escapee

San Quentin Prison inmate Cecil Fred Pillow, 34, who escaped Friday from the minimum security ranch at the prison, was back behind bars today, thanks to a pair of prison-made shoes.

Pillow was arrested in downtown San Francisco yesterday and returned to the prison at 5 p.m.

The two San Francisco police inspectors who picked him up said they realized he was a convict when they spotted the shoes he was wearing. San Quentin inmates wear a style of footwear which is easily recognizable to policemen.

Pillow said he had gotten away Friday night by going over a fence. But he admitted he had not had much fun in the last four days, since he had no money and was forced to live the life of a bum.

He wanted to go to Los Angeles, he told police, but had not been able to get a ride.

Los Angeles police, however, also know what San Quentin shoes look like.

"Haystack" — A newly developed radar and space communications system — is so sensitive that with an output of 100,000 watts it could track a target the size of a .22-caliber bullet 1,000 miles out in space.

Seven Conditions Attached To Map Of Subdivision

San Rafael Planning Commission took three votes and 45 minutes last night to approve a renewal of a tentative subdivision map submitted by subdivider William Timmer.

The commissioners attached seven conditions to approval of the map, but it took three votes to get there, with first John A. Miskimen then Charles J. Hendrickson voting against motions they had seconded.

The map puts 31 lots on 6.4 acres near Glen Park and Myrtle avenues. The commissioners disputed curbs, sidewalks, street grade and finally voted to include these conditions:

A sidewalk shall be built on Marshall Way, curbs shall be built on Glen Park Avenue, street grades at the entrance to the subdivision will remain at the present grade, cut and fill slopes are to be planted with adequate ground cover, no setback variances to be granted, all lots are to meet all single family residential requirements except some trimmed by a road easement.

The San Rafael Planning Commission Also:

1. Put over to next meeting consideration of plans for a Mobil Service station at Francisco Boulevard and Bellam Avenue, which commissioners felt just barely met requirements they set at a previous meeting.

2. Put over for two weeks decision on a 148-lot subdivision, an extension of Cedar Hill Drive in Twelveoak Hill area, which will be affected by decision in a rezoning matter to come before the commission.

3. Denied a two-lot split to Edward K. Lang on River Oaks Road west of Racquet Club Drive because the lots wouldn't conform to the size of other lots in the area (although the split wouldn't have brought the lots under the zoning requirements for size).

4. Approved classification of an office in a home at 51 Greenfield Avenue as a home occupation use. Request was by Manpower, Inc.

5. Gave architectural approval to plans of Garden Shop, to be moved to new location in United Market Building.

6. Approved use permit allowing Greyhound lines to use area between Pacific Gas and Electric Co. storage yard and Albert Park for bus storage providing paving and adequate drainage are put in.

7. Approved, with commissioner Miskimen opposing, a setback variance of five feet at 117 Dominican Drive from Custom Builders of Marin, implying that two other similar lots would be given same variance when time comes.

8. Postponed until Dec. 29 meeting consideration of request for variance allowing extra off-street parking space at Clark and Ross streets.

Babysitter's Employer Jailed On Checks

A 21-year-old Livermore woman was arrested there yesterday and brought to Marin County Jail to face charges she wrote three bad checks in San Anselmo.

Booked was Judith Lee Branam. San Anselmo police said she wrote the checks, totalling $75, to Juanita Tolson of 18 Sais Avenue, Apt. 2, San Anselmo, as payment for babysitting.

Novato Trustees Award Contract For Additions

The Old Novato Unified School District board last night awarded a $668,600 contract to M. Royce Hall of Napa for additions to the Novato High School at a special meeting in the school administration building.

Hall, lowest of six bidders, was $25,692 under the state allocation for the project to bring the high school up to capacity of 1,850 students. The contract now must be approved by the Local Acceptance Board (formerly the State Allocation Board) at Sacramento before becoming final.

Supt. James G. Bunker said he expects the work to start next week and be completed by the beginning of the school year next fall. Bids ranged up to $737,250.

Library Decision Urged In Novato

Novato's city planner Robert Lagle last night advised the Novato City Council to make basic decision as to whether it wants one main library or several branches.

His statement resulted from consideration of a proposed library site offered by San Rafael developer Harry Heifetz on Rowland Boulevard east of South Novato Boulevard.

"Very poor" was Lagle's summary of the site if it were to be considered for the sole Novato library since it is "off the traffic pattern" and not centrally located. But it would make a good site for a branch, he said.

Lagle said today that his purpose was to stress the importance of making such a decision as part of master plan, rather than a somewhat offhand isolated move. He indicated, too, that the council should consider how county cooperation could be feasible in neither pattern, Novato being now served by the county library system.

City Administrator J. Julien Baget told the council he would report on possible sites by Dec. 29. The council postponed site recommendation to the county.

A $2,766.80 contract was awarded to Nave Garage for a four-door Dodge sedan on recommendation of Charles Foster, finance officer, even though it was higher than the $2,704 bid of Dervin Ford for a similar car.

"I recommend the Dodge because of the 50,000 mile, five year guarantee, which is more than that of the Ford," Foster said.

The Novato City Council Also:

1. Approved tentative map of Meadowbrook Estates of 14 lots on Center Road west of Vineyard Terrace, but postponed action on tentative map of Cerro Vista Unit 4 on Olive Avenue pending a meeting of owners with the State Division of Highways as the proposed freeway bypass goes through this unit.
2. Approved spending $1,100 for repair of roof of the city hall, which leaks over the city finance officer's office.
3. Introduced an ordinance creating the position of finance officer and defining his duties.
4. Passed an ordinance requiring the paving of all private parking lots.
5. Approved an agreement with Sunset International Petroleum Corp. for improvement of San Andreas Drive to the San Marin Recreation Center, prior to subdividing the adjacent land.
6. Approved a protest of the Assn. of Bay Area Governments against the proposed San Luis Interceptor drain, but refused support of its request to act as its regional planning agency.
7. Awarded certificates of appreciation in work done in creating an "old town" on Grant Avenue east of Highway 101 to Diane Miklos, Bea Carpenter, Wilford Bettencourt, Jack and Hilda Friddle, Herbert Graham, Irving A. Links and Clarence E. (Bud) and Eleanor Tobin.
8. Received a letter from the North Marin County Water District pledging cooperation with the city in getting cheapest irrigation possible to islands on Highway 101 on completion of landscaping.
9. Approved the November city payroll of $32,307.
10. Adjourned to Dec. 29, skipping a Dec. 22 meeting.

Mill Valley's Signs Soon Won't Whirl

Rotating or moving signs would be prohibited in the city if Mill Valley under a recommendation made last night by city planners to city council.

Also, reads the proposed amendment to the sign ordinance, signs may not blink nor light intermittently.

Protests to the amendment came from Walter Brown, whose wife, Nancy, runs the Small World Travel Inc. at 25 East Blithedale Avenue over which rotates a lighted, colored world globe.

"It is very natural for the earth to be rotating," Brown told the commission.

Planning director Harvey Bragdon replied, "yes, but it would not be natural for a huge rectangle sign at a service station to rotate."

The amendment provides that no further rotating signs be allowed and such signs in being, the Small World having the only one, be made to conform within five years.

Citizen Charges Assault, Battery

A San Rafael man was booked by police last night on another man's charge that he created a disturbance and struck him at the victim's hotel room.

San Rafael police said they booked Leonard Stuart Fabian, 26, of 109 Woodland Avenue, Apt. 7 on a citizen's arrest by Joseph Jerome Graham of 1135 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

Fabian was charged with assault and battery as well as disturbing the peace.

Bank Bandit Brings Son On Repeat Holdup

FRESNO (UPI) — Donald Dean Rainey, who robbed a Bank of America branch eight years ago, and his 16-year-old son were identified as suspects today in the $19,995 holdup of the same branch yesterday.

The FBI issued fugitive warrants for Rainey and his son, Gerald, after tracing a rental car allegedly used in the holdup of the bank in the little town of Del Rey, 15 miles southeast of here.

COUNTY FOCUSES ON TAM LITTER

Sheriff, Mill Valley Police, CHP To Confer On Watching Student Strollers

Marin County is acting to alleviate problems caused by Tamalpais High School students gathering along nearby Homestead Boulevard, but law enforcement jurisdiction is still a muddle.

County Administrator Alan Bruce said the county sheriff will maintain routine patrol service in the neighborhood but cannot guarantee that a patrol unit can be at an exact location at a given time.

School Principal Robert H. Prather had requested that a sheriff's unit patrol during brunch and lunch periods.

Such a request is for a municipal type service that goes beyond what it is proper for the sheriff to provide in an unincorporated area, Bruce said.

Increasing the law enforcement service in this area would not only create a precedent, "but also would make more difficult ultimate solution of the boundary problem which complicates policing of the area," he said.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr suggested that Bruce and Sheriff Louis J. Mountanous meet with the Mill Valley city manager and police chief and California Highway Patrol to see if an agreement can be reached "on the geographic distribution of law enforcement responsibility" in the Tamalpais High School area.

Trustees of the Tamalpais High School District Monday night agreed that students should not be allowed on Homestead Boulevard or Gomez Way, where most of the complaints have been coming from, during school hours.

The Marin County Board Of Supervisors Also:

1. Granted Supt. of Schools Virgil S. Hollis permission to be out of the state from Feb. 20 to March 28, 1965, to tour Russia and other European countries to participate in the field study program of the American Assn. of School Administrators.
2. Adopted a policy on use of Civic Center meeting rooms including the condition that rooms are available only to non-profit groups with all meetings open to the public and no fee charged for admission.
3. Agreed that Stafford Lake will be given consideration for priority in recreation development plans after receiving a request from the Stafford Park Committee of Novato for "high priority."
4. Approved the appointment of Mrs. Sally Garoutte of Mill Valley to the Marin County Human Rights Commission and the appointment of Mrs. John M. Douglas of San Rafael to Mosquito Abatement District Board.
5. Received a 20-million-dollar, five-year capital improvements plan and continued the matter until next Tuesday when it will set a hearing on the proposed program.
6. Adopted ordinances limiting parking on portions of Kent Avenue and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield, after receiving requests from residents of the area for limited parking.
7. Received a recommended legislative program, requesting state action, from County Administrator Alan Bruce, but continued discussion until next Tuesday.
8. Received notice from County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney that the Northwestern Pacific Railroad Co. litigation over maintenance cost of safety devices at a grade crossing at Civic Center Drive will not impede development of the Civic Center during litigation.
9. Received from the Veterans War Memorial Committee a list of nominees for the auditorium and fairground committee and referred the list to Bruce.

Supervisor William D. Fusselman, who is recuperating from an illness, was absent.

Forged Checks Charge Results In Arraignment

Gay LaVonne Montague, 19, of 339 San Anselmo Avenue, San Anselmo, was arraigned yesterday on four counts of passing forged San Rafael General Hospital payroll checks worth $665.16 last month.

The checks, made out to an assumed name with hospital administrator Arthur Burns' signature forged on them, were on a bank in which the hospital no longer had an account, San Rafael police inspector Richard A. Camper said yesterday.

A warrant for the young California Youth Authority parolee was issued last week and San Rafael police. She was arrested by Fairfax police yesterday in Fairfax.

Camper said that investigation into the source of the checks was continuing. He suspected more persons were involved.

Welfare Program Costs Going Up

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California's social welfare program costs, spurred skyward by mounting caseloads, will amount to approximately 367 million dollars for the current fiscal year —16 million dollars over budget estimates.

State Finance Director Hale Champion said yesterday that the state's program involving aid to dependent children and families was chiefly responsible.

Highway Deaths Up For October

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Traffic accidents on California highways claimed 33 more lives in October of this year than in October of 1963.

Approximately 421 lives were claimed during October, Highway Patrol Commissioner Bradford M. Crittenden said Tuesday.

Novato Delays Action On Parks Fund Tariff

The Novato City Council decided last night to wait on a capital improvement program before taking any action on setting a fee on new buildings to finance the purchase of parks.

Before the council had finished with its discussion, it had talked about everything from special fees to assessment districts, general tax increases and a city capital improvement program.

City Administrator J. Julien Baget had proposed that the council consider a $30 fee on each new dwelling and an additional $10 for each bedroom, not to exceed $60 total. This money would be used to purchase park sites.

"Several cities have adopted such ordinances and several cities have had to refund the money they collected," Baget said.

City Attorney Clark M. Palmer Jr., cited the example of the city of Upland, San Bernardino County, which had enacted such an ordinance and then had to refund the money. He also mentioned Santa Clara which is a charter city and has such an ordinance under its broader powers. Its ordinance was copied by Fairfield, Solano County, a general law city, which has not been challenged.

City Planner Robert Lagle proposed a general tax increase of up to $1 per $100 assessed valuation to pay for park acquisition. (Novato now has a city tax of 34 cents per $100 assessed valuation.)

Mayor Robert D. Carrow proposed a city wide assessment on all bedrooms in the community, both those existing and others as they are constructed.

Lawrence A. Coleman, director of public works, said that the city council had much more than park acquisition to consider.

"There are such things as street improvment, drainage, public buildings and parks," he said.

"We will have a capital improvement program to present to the council about the first of March," he said. It would make long range proposals for streets, drainage, public buildings and parks, he said. It would also have suggestions on alloting funds to these projects, he said.

The council then decided to wait for the capital improvement proposals and consider any tax increase or fees at budget discussions.

Sister Finds Mill Valleyan Dead In Gas-Filled Auto

Clarence Arthur Pine, 57, of 126 Golden Hind Passage, Corte Madera, was found dead in the front seat of his car at 5:30 p.m. yesterday.

He was found there by his sister, Mrs. Leone A. Trau of the same address, shortly after she returned from work. Corte Madera police said a vacuum cleaner hose ran from the car's exhaust pipe through a rear window.

He reportedly had a long history of emotional disturbance.

Police said a copy of the book, "The Presidential Papers" by Norman Mailer, was found on the car seat next to the body. It was open and these lines were circled:

"I wonder said the Lord

I wonder if I know the answer anymore."

The body was taken to the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo, for an autopsy.

Surviving are a son, Donald Pine of Hermosa Beach, two daughters, Mrs. Barbara Bodell of Hermosa Beach, Los Angeles County, and Mrs. Myra Miller of Santa Rosa, two sisters, Mrs. Trau and Mrs. Lorraine Zimms of San Francisco, and three brothers, Kenneth Pine of Concord, Rex Pine of Los Angeles and Clem Pine Jr., with the Air Force in Utah.

Novatan Wins Credit Toward Color TV

Mrs. Roger L. McKee of 627 Plum Street, Novato, has won $400 worth of credit toward purchase of a color television set, through a contest sponsored by the Marin Appliance Dealers Assn.

Participants sent in coupons placed in Independent-Journal advertisement by 31 appliance dealers and the Northern California Electrical Bureau.

Planners Seek Height Advice

Larkspur planning commissioners last night voted to send a questionnaire to other cities in the Bay Area asking how these cities have handled height limitations variance requests.

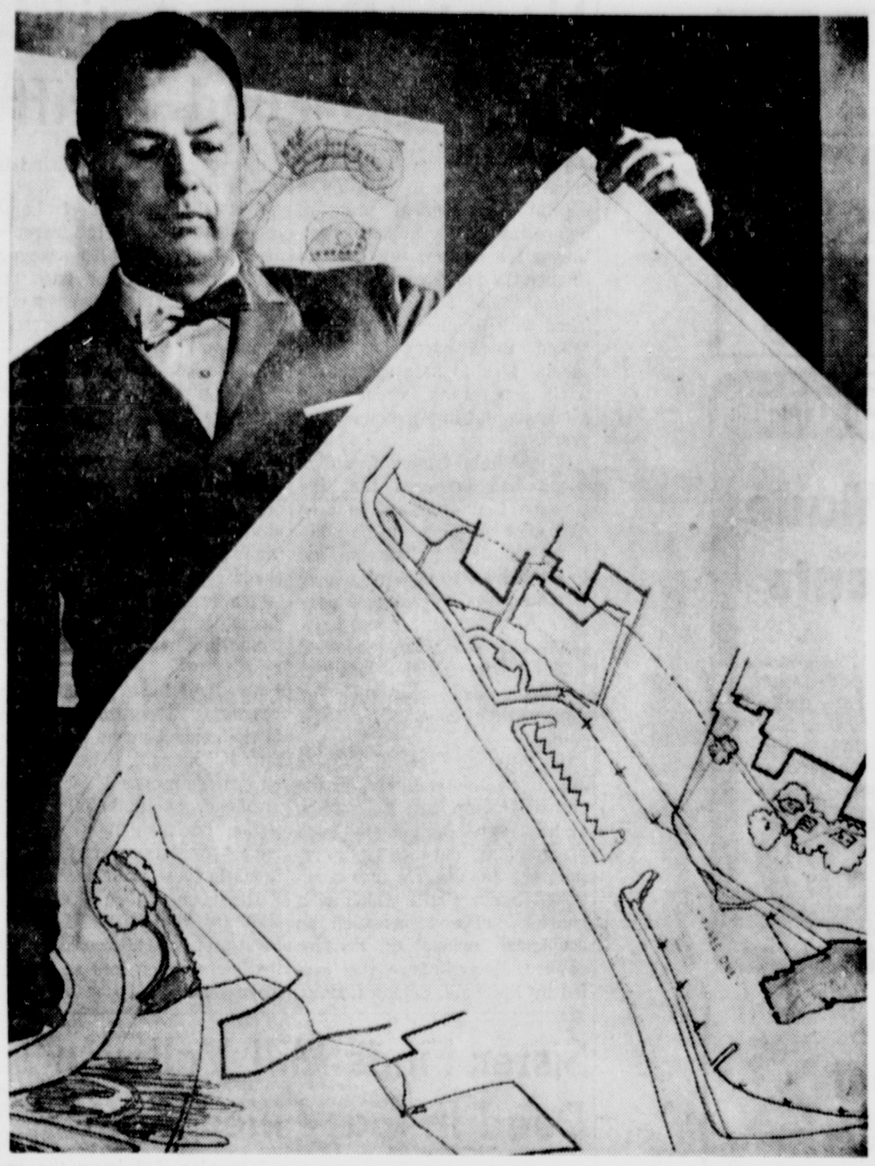

The commission has been studying whether the city zoning ordinance should be amended to prohibit or limit the rights of the city council to grant variances on height, since the present 35 foot limit was far exceeded by approval of a 12-story retirement building.

HUB PARKING PLAN

The antics of the yellow-headed blackbird should be familiar to parents of some teenagers. According to the National Geographic Society's new "Song and Garden Birds of North America" — "The yellowheads sing a harsh jumble of notes ending in a rasping buzz. The songs are accompanied by twisting and writhing as if the birds were in agony."

Ike Speaks Up; Barry Plans Summit Parley

COMBINED UPI & AP

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower today delivered a strong attack against "paternalistic" federal government. He called on the people of the United States to "set our faces firmly against federal programs that erode away citizen, local and state self-reliance."

"Why should the federal government assert and assume a priority interest in the problems of the youth and aged, the ill and the poor, and the temporarily unemployed?" Eisenhower asked in a luncheon address prepared for the Life Insurance Assn. of America.

He said that it is necessary "to keep decisions affecting economic policies and actions in the hands of private industry and productive individuals."

Meanwhile, Sen. Barry Goldwater was ready to tell a Republican summit conference today he thinks the struggle over GOP leadership is tearing the beaten party apart.

That was the word from a source close to the defeated Republican presidential nominee as Goldwater prepared to talk politics with Eisenhower and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Precise arrangements for the New York conference were cloudy. There was no word as to exactly when or where the meeting would be held. An Eisenhower aide said the three would meet in the afternoon; but that details had not been worked out.

"There is no agenda," said Republican National Chairman Dean Burch, who plans to attend at least part of the discussions. "This is a very informal conference."

The embattled party chairman, hand-picked by Goldwater, said he does not expect the Arizona senator will specifically ask Eisenhower and Nixon to back Burch's continued service as GOP chairman.

Robber On Rampage In Midwestern Hotel

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — A bandit robbed the Holiday Inn at Municipal Airport early today, exchanged shots with a guard; raped a woman employe, and fled with three guests as hostages. The hostages were released five miles away, unharmed.

The motel has been robbed three times in six weeks. A second armed man was seen outside the motel in today's robbery.

Santa Slates Mill Valley Office Hours

The old Saint of the Christmas season, Claus, will arrive in Mill Valley at about 10:30 a.m. Saturday.

Sponsored by merchants in the area of Lytton Square, he will visit stores in the square and hold conferences with youngsters on his throne in front of Santa's House at the chamber of commerce office, 85 Throckmorton Avenue.

His schedule, according to Carl M. Mosher of Carl Mosher Shoes who arranged for his appearance, is:

Saturday, from 10:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. in the area and at Santa's House at noon, 2 and 4 p.m.; Monday, through Dec. 18, 2 to 5:30 p.m. and at Santa's House at 4 p.m.; Dec. 19, and Dec. 21 through Dec. 24, from 10:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. in the square and at Santa's House at noon, 2 and 4 p.m.

Cuban In New York

NEW YORK (UPI)—Ernesto Che Guevara, Cuban minister of industry and number two man in the Castro regime, arrived at Kennedy International Airport today for an address to the United Nations General Assembly. He is scheduled to speak Dec. 18 or 21.

Wilson Heads For Canada After 'Successful' Talks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — British Prime Minister Harold Wilson wound up two days of Washington talks today and prepared to try to sell European allies a series of broad proposals for more collective control of Western nuclear power.

Wilson told a news conference before flying to Canada that he regarded his talks with President Lyndon B. Johnson as a "complete success." He said there was agreement on "guidelines" of how to proceed with allied discussions.

In the meeting with reporters, Wilson appeared to soften some of his opposition to the controversial U.S. proposal for a 25-ship NATO nuclear fleet.

The prime minister said he had been misinterpreted, in reports before leaving Britain for Washington, as being "irrevocably opposed" to international crews on such a fleet. And he described as exaggerated reports that Britain was concerned that West Germany would obtain a "finger on the nuclear trigger."

Wilson declined to spell out exactly what the broad British proposals are for increased allied nuclear coordination. He plans to do this before the House of Commons next week on his return to London.

In the talks here Wilson won approval from Johnson to try to sell his ideas to other members of the alliance.

Johnson agreed, meanwhile, that the United States would not, for a limited time at least, press its own proposal for a nuclear-armed fleet.

The British proposals are reported to envisage a much larger allied force including land and air components and a scaled-down naval fleet.

Youth Is Booked After Hub Fracas

A 14-year-old San Anselmo youth was booked at juvenile hall at 5:30 p.m. yesterday on charges he slammed a door on his grandmother's hand and punched his grandfather in the nose.

San Anselmo police said they were called at 4:35 p.m. by the grandmother, Mrs. Albert DiGrazia of 8 Fairview Court.

Mrs. DiGrazia told police she had observed the boy, a diabetic, go into one of his periodic bursts of anger, and had tried to leave the house to evade his ire.

The youth, however, slammed the front door on her hand to prevent her leaving, she said. Police said her husband then intervened and the boy struck him.

SHOOTS SELF — Cuban Labor Minister Augusto Martinez Sanchez, 46, is reported to have shot himself in the head yesterday. The shooting followed notification he was being ousted for "serious administrative errors." He is near death. (AP Wirephoto)

Twin Brother Is Charged In Death

The murder complaint was issued by Los Angeles County Deputy Dist. Atty. John Hopkins at the request of Sheriff's deputies who questioned Timothy's version of an accidental "unloaded gun" shooting.

Lt. James Hamilton of the Sheriff's Homicide Division pointed out that the death weapon — a 22-caliber rifle — was fired twice. He said "physical evidence" substantiated the request for a murder complaint.

Hamilton and other detectives had sought a murder complaint yesterday but Hopkins delayed issuing it until he made a further investigation.

Tod was shot in the heart Monday night in the $400,000 apartment building which the brothers bought recently with part of a one-million-dollar inheritance they shared equally four years ago when each was 18 years old.

Novato Seeks Legislation

The Novato City Council last night decided that there are at least four areas of legislation which they want to request of the state and federal legislators at the Dec. 18 briefing at the Civic Center.

Rep. Donald Clausen (R-Crescent City); assemblyman William T. Bagley (R-San Rafael) and state sen. John McCarthy (R-San Rafael) have scheduled the briefing.

The Novato council decided to ask for the $75,000 flood control study for Novato Creek, legislation so that the city can charge building fees for parks, that community television antennae companies by regulated by the Public Utilities Commission and a thorough study given to the entire annexation procedure.

Novato Names Two Planners

The Novato City Council last night, after an hour-long closed session, filled two vacancies on the planning commission.

John Castleman of 144 Country Club Drive, owner of the Novato Building Supply, was named to replace Alfred Bellucci. Mrs. Pat Beyer of 1112 Ruhlman Lane, was named to replace Dr. Merton Shelton.

Both are four year terms and both start on Jan. 1.

Venison Makes Unpleasant Gift

Someone with a warped sense of humor—and possibly a grudge—chose an unpleasant way to observe a San Rafael teen-ager's birthday last night.

Mrs. Harriet Massoni of 247 Santa Margarita Drive told San Rafael police early today someone had hurled a piece of freshly butchered deer carcass through a plate glass window and scattered other large chunks of it in the yard.

Mrs. Massoni said yesterday was her daughter Marianne's birthday.

Fagundes Ranch Annexation Due Agency

The Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission will consider annexation of 206 acres of the Fagundes Ranch, south of Lucas Valley Road and west of Highway 101, to the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District at 8:15 a.m. tomorrow at the Civic Center.

The commission also will consider annexation of 1.7 acres between Shoreline Highway and Morningsun Avenue, Tamalpais Junction, to the Almonte Sanitary District.

The commission will have a special session at 8 p.m. Monday at the Civic Center to consider Mill Valley's bid to annex 137 acres including Tamalpais along Richardson Bay.

Theft At School

Someone entered the faculty room of Vallecito School, San Rafael, over the weekend and stole $8 to $10, police learned yesterday. Entry was gained by prying vents from the doors of the room.

Tiburon Man Hurt In Auto Accident

Stanley Hamilton, 44, of 9 East Terrace, Tiburon, was listed in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with a whiplash spine injury following a rear-end collision about 8:30 a.m. yesterday southbound on the on-ramp to Highway 101 from Tiburon Boulevard.

California Highway patrol reported that Hamilton's car was struck by one driven by Darwin Bryan, 65, of a 4 Lagoon Road, Belvedere. Both drivers claimed speeds below 10 miles an hour.

INCOME TAX FACTS

There Are Many Ways You Can Lower Your Tax Bill

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, C.P.A.

Do you want to lower your taxes?

There are many things you can do now to cut your tax bill for this year, but remember, to have any effect on your 1964 taxes, transactions must have occurred before midnight Dec. 31, 1964.

Wikel

If you plan to itemize your deductions this year, try to pay every deductible expense before the end of the year; that is, charitable contributions, interest, deductible taxes, medical expense, etc. Also, pay them in advance for 1965. Pay them so you can get the deduction on your 1964 return. At 1964's higher rates they will be worth more to you.

If you are going to use the standard deduction this year, don't pay any more deductible expenses. Wait and pay them in 1965 because in 1965 you might be able to itemize your deductions to greater advantage than taking the standard deduction.

Watch your dependent's earnings. If your dependent is not your child under 19 or a student, you lose the dependency credit if his earnings are $600 or more. You should be sure your dependent does not earn over $600 for 1964 even if it means stopping work in December because each dependency credit is worth at least $96 to you in actual tax dollars.

If your dependent is a child under nineteen, or is a student, and you furnish over half the cost of his support, he can earn any amount and you can still claim him. He can also claim his own exemption on his own tax return if he files one.

Medical expenses are deductible to the extent that they exceed 3 per cent of your adjusted gross income. If you are over 65 years old, or they are for a dependent parent over 65 years old, then medical expenses are fully deductible subject to some maximums.

If you have already paid medical expenses in 1964 up to 3 per cent of your adjusted gross income, then before Dec. 31, 1964, pay any other medical expenses you owe.

Next year you will once again have to pay medical expenses to equal 3 per cent of your adjusted gross income before you can get the deduction, so pay them all in 1964 so as to get the biggest possible deduction.

In paying all of your medical expenses this year, don't overlook the accident and health insurance premiums. These are deductible. You can pay your accident and health insurance premiums in 1964 in advance for 1965.

If you don't have the money to pay all your medical and other deductible expenses this year and in advance, consider borrowing the money. Most banks and lending institutions will make loans for this purpose.

The lowest tax rate for 1964 is 16 per cent and you will save at least 16 per cent of the amount that you pay for deductible expenses this year. Your loan shouldn't cost you more than 6 per cent, so you will gain a net 10 per cent by borrowing the money and paying the medical and other deductible expense this year. Of course, the interest that you pay on the loan is a deduction when you pay it.

If you can arrange with the bank or lending institution to give you the full amount of the loan and then you turn around and pay the interest in 1964, in advance for 1965, you can also deduct the interest in 1964.

If you prepay all or most of your 1965 deductible expenses, then you may not have enough to itemize in 1965. In that case you could use the standard deduction and this could result in additional tax savings.

Chamber Opposes Employer Laws

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The new board of directors of the California State Chamber of Commerce has voted to oppose legislation which would "interfere with the right of an employer to continue operating during a strike by hiring employees to replace strikers."

The state chamber announced the vote today, adding that "it appears certain" that a bill of this kind will be proposed to the legislature in January.

The report from the chamber suggested that such legislation would be unconstitutional under both the state and federal constitutions, and added:

Marin Firm Offers Electronic Class Aid

Electronic Properties International Corp. of San Rafael has been appointed exclusive foreign distributor of its integrated multi-media electronic teaching systems.

Each system comprises a teacher's console and individual student stations with response keys. After presentation of information the students make responses by their keys and meters at the console disclose answers to the teacher. This is followed by the proper response for comparison.

Sharp Loss Closes Weakened Market

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market weakend further in late selling and closed with sharp loss today.

The market was lower almost from the start but held its losses fairly within bonds until the final hour. Then many stocks weakened.

Volume for the day was estimated at 5 million shares, about the same as yesterday.

Steels, rails, motors, rubbers, airlines and electronics were lower.

Farm implements were up slightly. Tobaccos, drugs and nonferrous metals were narrowly mixed.

A drop of more than 2 by DuPont dragged at the averages. Eastman Kodak slid more than a point.

Chrysler, higher and active in early dealings, wiped out its gain and registered a one-point loss. General Motors slid more than a point, Ford nearly a point.

The big favorite was Comsat, delayed in opening due to a swarm of buy orders. It was halted in trading again, then reopened on a block of 45,000 shares, up 4 at 66.

Analysts saw the list as approaching a test of the lows reached in the sharp decline of early last week.

Down a point or so were International Paper, U.S. Gypsum, Montgomery Ward, Zenith, Twentieth-Century Fox, Bausch and Lomb, Korvette, Newberry and Seiberling.

TWA and Thor Tools were off about 2 each.

Prices were generally higher in active trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Smoking Not Worst Cause Of Plant Fire

NEW YORK (UPI) — If asked, you would probably say matches and smoking were the prime cause of plant fires. Not so, the experts tell us.

Harry I. Etelman, president of a firm which makes fire-proof cleaning compounds for industry, ranks friction, spontaneous combustion, poor plant maintenance and faulty plant housekeeping ahead of matches and smoking as chief cause of industrial fires.

Airline Reports New Records In Tonnage

NEW YORK (UPI)—Increases in October traffic, ranging up to 54 per cent in domestic freight and 32 per cent in international passenger miles are reported by Trans World Airlines.

Freight tonnage miles set new records. TWA cited the expansion of its Cargojet throughplane schedules on transcontinental and trans-Atlantic routes and new or improved terminal facilities for steady increases in its air freight business.

WALL STREET

Outlook Good For Market

NEW YORK (UPI) — Thomson and McKinnon points out that the most important determinant of stock prices is the general and specific economic outlook.

The firm believes that right now this still points toward a higher market.

TAX SELLING

Oppenheimer, Newborg and Neu says that although December tax selling may delay the recovery of some depressed stocks and groups such as steel, it believes purchases of these shares in large and sound enterprises are still advisable, especially those which have prospects for increased earnings in 1965.

FAST MOVING

Bache and Co. says that while the market may need some additional time to adjust to recent fast moving developments, it believes that the underlying favorable trend continues intact.

NO DECLINE

Leslie M. Pollack of Reynolds and Co. believes that an important decline does not appear imminent but does not expect a prolonged sidewise movement over the near-term.

LONG UPTREND

Stanley Heller and Co. says that no technical damage has yet appeared in the long term market uptrend and it continues to favor a policy of increased investment during periods of market weakness.

Bank Of California Increases Dividends

SAN FRANCISCO—A 20-cent increase in the annual dividend payable on capital stock of the Bank of California has been announced by Charles de Bretteville, president, following a meeting of the bank's board of directors. The new annual rate of $1.80 a share, increased from $1.60 a share, becomes effective with the final quarterly dividend of 1964.

The bank's stockholders of record Dec. 31 will receive a quarterly dividend of 45 cents a share instead of the previous 40 cents a share, payable Jan. 15.

Income Payments From Insurance

NEW YORK (UPI) — American families will collect an estimated more than 1 billion dollars this year in income payments from life insurance proceeds set aside with life companies, says the Institute of Life Insurance.

The Institute said that last year policyholders and their families set aside 15 per cent of their life insurance benefits to provide income payments in the future. These benefits included ordinary and group insurance death payments, matured endowments and cash surrender values.

New Office Building Addition Is In Works For Mill Valley

Construction activity on Camino Alto, Mill Valley, will lead to the new office building addition of Goheen Construction Co. being completed about the first of the year. Total complex of offices at 125 through 131 Camino Alto will then amount to something like 8,000 square feet, with units facing on a central court.

Goheen Construction will occupy about two-thirds of the second story in the new section, and the engineering firm of Kenneth Frost Associates in Tiburon will take the other third. Other space is expected to be filled by a mortgage loan office, an office for the Capital Co. (Edmund M. Steacy and John Peterson) which handles marketing of Goheen properties, and Peterson's own Scott Valley Real Estate. Mill Valley Garbage Co. has also leased office space in here, moving from 294 Miller Avenue when it is ready.

In addition, Dr. Kleve C. Johnson's new four-suite dental building should get under way shortly, with completion next spring. It is so close to the others, access is provided through the Goheen complex.

CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANT Thomas H. Keigwin of Greenbrae has opened general accunting offices in the Executive Building at 1330 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael.

Keigwin, formerly of Mill Valley, was previously a junior partner in the offices of Prior and McClellan, San Francisco.

WITH ALL THE ADO over smog prevention devices for automobiles, it is almost unnoticed that boats with inboard motors have been outfitted with them for years.

According to Marion F. Ludlow of Marine Engine and Electric Co. of San Rafael, who has long been making such installations (about 12 years), no respectable boat operator can run the risk of having his cockpit filled with fumes and carbon monoxide. Most of the devices have to be specially fitted to the individual engines.

"The same thing holds true of automobiles," he said. "The success is in the fitting—although there are some cars which would probably run badly whether they had a smog device or not."

NEW MANAGER of Public Finance Corp., San Rafael is Loren J. Edler, who has been assistant manager in the Santa Rosa office. He joined the company in 1962 at an office in Vallejo. Public Finance Corp is a subsidiary of American Investment Co., which operates 750 consumer finance offices in 41 states.

WESLEY A. ROBERTS of Fairfax has been promoted from San Rafael district plant engineer of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. to equipment maintenance engineer for the Bay Area. He started his PT&T career eight years ago as an assistant engineer in San Francisco.

SHOE WAS ON the wrong foot: A recent I-J mention of Stanley Kramar's purchase of a new shoe store in Napa identified him as owner of Keig's Shoe Store in Corte Madera.

PARTNERS Wilbur Everest and Herbert Burford of Marin Lights, San Rafael redress their showrooms just about every week, and they do some fine jobs on the displays.

Penney's Earnings At Record

Record earnings and sales both for the third quarter and the nine months ended Oct. 31 have been announced by the J. C. Penney Co. department store chain.

Earnings for the third quarter rose 32.5 per cent. Sales for the third quarter were up 14.3 per cent and for the nine months 14.5 per cent.

Net earnings of $20,114,265 for the third quarter were equivalent to 81 cents a share, against 61 cents a share last year. Net earnings for the three quarters totaled $43,636,954, or $1.75 a share, compared with net earnings for the nine months ended Oct. 31, 1963 of $1.33 a share—a gain in earnings of $10,556,807.

The company has revised upward its estimate of capital expenditures for the current fiscal year ending Jan. 31, 1965 to 33 million dollars, as opposed to 28 million dollars projected at the start of the year, due to acceleration of work in progress.

Food Stores Selling Lots Of Sweet Stuff

NEW YORK (UPI)—Food stores, including supermarkets, account for an estimated 33⅓ per cent of total candy sales made in major retail outlets, according to the National Confectioners Association.

Supermarkets alone sell 25 per cent; candy, nut and confectionery stores, 20 per cent; drug stores, 10 per cent; vending machines, 10 per cent; variety stores, 10 per cent; theaters (including part of vending sales), 10 per cent, cigar and news stands, 3.3 per cent, and department stores, 3 per cent.

Colts, Packers Dominate All-Pro; Hazeltine 2nd Team

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — Baltimore and Green Bay each placed five men on the annual All-National Football League team selected today for The Associated Press.

The selections were made by a 42-man committee of three from each of the 14 league cities.

(Corner linebacker Matt Hazeltine, co-captain of the San Francisco 49ers and a graduate of Tamalpais High School, was voted on the second team.)

Frank Clarke of Dallas took over the split end job, won by the ailing Del Shofner of the New York Giants in the previous three years. Mike Ditka, the Bears' powerful tight end, was one of seven repeaters.

Dick Schafrath of Cleveland and Forrest Gregg of Green Bay again were the offensive tackles, although Gregg moved to guard in mid-season when Vince Lombardi shuffled his Packer line.

Jim Parker of Baltimore, a hardy perennial, was an all-star guard again, but Ken Gray of the St. Louis Cardinals took over the other guard job, held for two years by Green Bay's Jerry Kramer, who recently underwent surgery.

Mick Tingelhoff, signed by the Minnesota Vikings as a free agent in 1962, took over the first string center job, beating out Jim Ringo of Philadelphia, the incumbent, Bob DeMarco of St. Louis and Mike Pyle of the Bears.

Green Bay put four men on the defensive unit, including Willie Davis at end, Henry Jordan at tackle, Ray Nitschke at middle linebacker and Willie Wood at safety. Gino Marchetti, veteran Baltimore end who came out of retirement just before the season started, and Bob Boyd, a corner back, were the Colts' contribution to the defensive team.

Bob Lilly, Dallas giant who is regarded by many as the best lineman in the NFL, made the club at defensive tackle.

Joe Fortunato, the consistent Chicago Bears left linebacker, and Maxie Baughan, who had a fine year for the Philadelphia Eagles, were the corner linebackers.

The only rookie to make the first team was Paul Krause, Washington's fine safety from Iowa whose 12 interceptions led the league. Pat Fischer, at 5-foot-9 the smallest man to play regularly, won the other corner back job on his great season as a pass interceptor and defender for the Cardinals.

Broken down into divisions, the Western Conference had 14 men among the first 22 and the Eastern Conference eight.

The repeaters from 1963 were Ditka, Gregg, Schafrath, Brown, Jordan, Fortunato and Parker. Y. A. Tittle, the all-star quarterback of the Giants and also the most valuable player in 1963 did not receive a vote.

Streaking Comets Blitz Marin College By 108-97

College of Marin equalled its highest scoring output of the cage season last night, scoring 97 points, but the Tars still lost to the Contra Costa Junior College Comets 108-97 in Kentfield.

The visiting cagers from the East Bay lived up to their nicknames, showing a lot of speed in beating Marin at its own game — the fast break. By intermission, the Comets had a commanding 54-41 lead.

It was a close game for the first 12 minutes, but then Contra Costa got hot and started pulling away. At one time in the second half, the Mariners found themselves trailing by 23 points but closed the gap to 8 points, 98-90, with 2:30 left in the game. But it was too late.

Marin was called for twice as many fouls. The Tars were caught with infractions 26 times to 13 for Contra Costa, and that proved to be a big difference, because each team scored 39 field goals. But in the free throw department Marin was outscored 30-19.

Independent-Journal Sports

Wed., Dec. 9, 1964 21

"I was pleased with our second half comeback," said Marin coach Cal Riemcke. "We didn't play well in the first half but showed much improvement in the second half." He noted that Contra Costa was the toughest team the Tars have faced so far this year. "They were really fast," Cal added.

Brad Busch, playmaking guard for Marin, scored 29 points before fouling out near the end of the game. Very hot from outside the key, Busch pushed through 14 field goals. Other high scorers for Marin included Jay Johnson, the other guard, with 24 points; Jim Halm with 18 and Bill Brody with 12.

Jim Halm, 6-7 center-forward for Marin, pulled down 11 rebounds to lead in that category. Ten of those 11 were in the second half when Halm started to muscle up. Fred Arnold, the other 6-7 cager for Marin, fouled out with 15 minutes still remaining in the game.

PREP BASKETBALL ROUNDUP

Novato Romps; San Rafael, Tam And Terra Linda Fall

The undefeated Novato High School basketballers swept to their third straight victory yesterday with a 63-37 drubbing of Concordia High in the Novato Hornets' gym.

Three other Marin prep teams took to the road yesterday with disappointing results. San Rafael was shaded by Napa 58-57, Terra Linda was edged by Petaluma 54-52, and Tamalpais was bombed by Vallejo 61-39.

Novato, defending cage co-champs of the Marin Athletic League, found the visitors from Oakland easy prey as the Hornets racked up a 17-2 lead after the first quarter. At the halfway point, Novato was leading Concordia by 18 points, 31-13.

Eleven cagers got in the game for Novato and all scored. The Hornets were led by junior Everett Fritz with 16 points. Tom Stetson had 8 and Dennis Major had 7.

The Novato Class B cagers, led by Thad Marks with 11 points, won their first game of the season, 35-23 over the Concordia "B" team. Next game for Novato will be Friday against Montgomery.

San Rafael, co-champ last year with Novato, lost a tough one to Napa. The Bulldogs' Joe Cunningham was fouled just before the final buzzer sounded. With a one-and-one situation and the San Rafael quint trailing 58-57, Cunningham missed the free throw.

Guard Ken Erdman led the San Rafael scoring attack with 25 points, and Jeff Allen added 10 more. The Bulldogs nipped Napa in rebounds, 41-40, with Bob Rossi leading San Rafael with 12.

The San Rafael junior varsity team lost to Napa 54-39. Clip Tyson was high for S.R. with 14 points. Next action for San Rafael (2-2) will be Saturday against Montgomery of Santa Rosa.

Terra Linda's record slipped to one win and two losses because of the narrow loss to Petaluma. The Petalumans, enjoying the advantage of their home court, scored a three-point play with less than a minute left to rally for the win.

The Terra Linda quint was ahead by two point at half and four points after three quarters but couldn't hang on. Senior forward Keith Shields, who stands only 5-10, scored 26 points and snagged 11 rebounds for Terra Linda. Don Knotts chipped in with 11 points.

The T. L. junior varsity also lost its game 59-49. Jim McInnis and Bruce Kilby led the Terra Linda attack with 13 and 12 points respectively. Next game for Terra Linda's varsity will be Friday against Wilson of San Francisco.

Tam was outmanned by a tough Vallejo defense which kept a backcourt press against the Indians. Leading the Vallejo five was Jim Plump with 19

Baseball's Great David-Goliath Act Moves To American League

Jack Hanley

American League baseball fans may not realize it yet but in 1965 they are going to be treated to one of the game's greatest David-Goliath acts when Stu Miller once again faces Frank Howard.

It always seemed like a mismatch whenever little Stu and the giant Howard were pitted against each other in the National League, Stu as relief pitcher for the Giants, Howard as homerun slugger for the Dodgers.

But like David, Stu always overpowered the giant. Overpowered isn't the right word. Underpowered is the correct one. Stu invariably struck out Howard with deliveries that once were described as slow, slower and two cents postage due.

It wasn't so much the fact that Miller regularly fanned Howard but the way the little fellow did it with his soft stuff. Howard always was twisted out of shape trying to time Miller's serves that wouldn't bruise a butterfly.

Then, the Giants traded Miller at the end of the 1962 season to Baltimore. Howard jumped with joy when that trade was announced. No longer would he have to face his tormentor. But now the nightmare begins anew for him. Howard has been traded to Washington.

THAT IS not the only sad part of the story for Howard. His departure from the National League means he no longer will be able to belt homeruns off Bob Hendley, his favorite pitcher.

Before Hendley became a Giant last season, Howard had rapped the southpaw for five homers in as many times at bat when Hendley still was a Brave. That had to be some kind of record for any pitcher-hitter duel.

HOWEVER, Howard didn't let the record end there. He made it seven-for-seven (homers) in his first two 1964 ABs against Hendley, now in a Giant uniform.

By the time the 1964 season ended, Howard in 20ABs had hit Hendley for eight homers, three doubles and a single. The single was considered a moral victory by Hendley over Howard.

Needless to say, Hendley is a happy fellow ever since hearing about Howard's trade into the other league. Contacted at his home in Macon, Ga., Hendley said: "It's the best news I've had in a long while."

Dons Whip S.F. State By 93-72

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The nation's fifth ranked college basketball team, University of San Francisco, remains undefeated in West Coast play. The Dons rolled over a small but mighty San Francisco State team 93-72 last night.

In tonight's contests Arizona State will be at Oregon State and Idaho will travel to the midlands to play Western Michigan.

The USF Dons were led by Ollie Johnson who hit 21 points and controlled both backboards with 17 rebounds. Dons guard Russ Gumina had a hot night from the floor and gave San Francisco an early lead with his sharp shooting.

The loss was the first of the season for San Francisco State, who had scored two upset victories before the battle with USF.

WINNING SHOT

Seattle captain Charlie Williams dropped in two free throws and substitute Jack Tebbs added the winning foul shot giving the Chieftains a 79-78 victory over Arizona State. With the score at 79-76 with 19 seconds left, Sun Devil John Myers hit a basket on a fast braek. But the Sun Devils couldn't overcome the Chieftains' one-point advantage.

Sophomore Tom Workman led Seattle with 24 points and Myers led Arizona State with 20.

Dick Schiendler, Loyola's hope for all-coast honors, scored 23 points and led the Lions to an 84-68 victory over the University of San Diego.

Sophomore Ken Petersen was right behind Schiendler with 21 points. Peterson also grabbed 16 rebounds.

San Diego closed the gap between them and the Lions to three points midway through the second half, but Bob Burns put the game on ice for the Lions with six straight buckets from the floor.

Venturi Honored: 'Player Of Year'

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Ken Venturi, who made one of golf's greatest comebacks with a win in the U. S. Open, was named Player of the Year last night by the Professional Golfers Assn.

And Lloyd Mangrum and the late Edward Dudley were elected to the PGA's Hall of Fame in ceremonies at the association's annual banquet staged this year at the Sahara Hotel.

"I never thought this day would come to pass," Venturi said, referring to three years of tourney play which brought frustration instead of victories.

Plagued with ill health and an admitted lack of confidence, Venturi went steadily downhill after a promising beginning to his career.

"It was the spark I needed," Venturi said. Before the season ended, he had added the American Golf Classic and the Insurance City Open to his 1964 laurels.

Venturi said earlier he had intended for this to be his last year on the professional tour, and had special thanks for his fellow pros.

"They were unselfish in giving their encouragement," he said, "and I know they were pulling for me to make a comeback."

"I'm stuck for words," Mangrum said. "but this kind of touches my heart and that hasn't been working too good lately."

He has suffered nine heart attacks in recent months.

"It's a pleasure to be here, it's a pleasure to be anywhere as a matter of fact," he quipped. And to a standing ovation, Mangrum said:

"If I am still around I might play nine with you if you give me four strokes."

Mangrum, a pro since 1929, won 37 major tournaments including the 1946 U. S. Open, and finished among the top three in 100 others. He also played on five Ryder Cup teams.

Dudley played on three Ryder Cup squads during a career that included victories in the California, Los Angeles and Western Opens.

CHRIS FINDS FEW FAULTS WITH 49ERS

Coach Jack Christiansen of the San Francisco 49ers had few complaints after viewing films of last Sunday's 28-7 win over the Los Angeles Rams.

"The defensive secondary came up with its best game of the year and guard John Thomas did a fine job of handling the Rams' big Rosie Grier," the coach commented.

Christiansen complimented both the offensive and defensive lines and happily added that the team had no injuries from the game. His only complaint was that "offensively, we are still making mistakes. We are still fumbling."

Seals To Test New Goaltender Tonight

PORTLAND (UPI) — Rookie goaltender Henry Goy will be with the San Francisco Seals tonight when they return to the Western Hockey League wars against the Portland Bucs.

The Seals yesterday recalled the 21-year-old net-minder, who started out the year in Seals camp. San Francisco farmed out Goy to Jacksonville of the Eastern Hockey League, but then he returned to his Winnipeg home to play in an amateur league there.

Regular goalie Bob Perreault was hit in the eye with a stick during Monday's practice, according to Coach Bud Poile. But then the coach added "besides, a short rest might do him some good."

The rotund Perrault was the hero of last year's league playoffs, but this year sports a poor 4.52 average and has been getting booed by San Francisco fans. He apparently now is in a fight for his job.

San Francisco has yet to win in two tries at Portland, which is a powerful team now that it has shaken off early season injuries. The Bucs, who have been drawing almost 8000 fans a contest, have won four out of their last five and are five points out of first. Portland will be missing only forward Cliff Schmautz and defense-man Mike Donaldson tonight.

San Francisco is tied for fifth place with Victoria, but both are nine full points out of fourth place.

Meet Coaches At Terra Linda High

Terra Linda High School Boosters Assn. will sponsor a "Meet The Coaches" program tonight, 7:30 o'clock, at the high school cafeteria.

The Terra Linda basketball coaching staff will be introduced to Boosters. Also on the agenda are demonstration of basketball tactics and a wrestling exhibition.

Giants To Play 26 In Spring

The San Francisco Giants have announced a 26-game exhibition schedule which opens March 13 against Cleveland at Tucson, Ariz., and ends with the same club April 10 in San Diego.

On Monday, March 1, the club will report to its training complex at Casa Grande, Ariz., and stay there approximately 10 days before the opener with Cleveland. The Giants then will transfer their training base to Phoenix.

Four open dates are on the schedule and a club spokesman said that the Nankai Hawks of Japan might fill them. A final decision will be made in the near future, the spokesman said.

The schedule:

March 22 — Cleveland at Tucson; March 23 — Cubs at Phoenix; March 24—Boston at Phoenix; March 25 — Cubs at Mesa.

NFL Grabs Pair Of Speedburners

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Dallas Cowboys and New York Giants, destined to finish far up the track in this year's National Football League race, should have speed to burn in 1965.

Sprinters Bob Hayes and Henry Carr, double gold medal winners at the Tokyo Olympic Games, signed contracts yesterday with the Cowboys and Giants, respectively.

The NFL clubs, running sixth and seventh in the Eastern Division with one game remaining, outbid American League rivals for the speedsters, who hope to make the grade as flanker backs or defensive secondary men.

Hayes, who played his football at Florida A&M, was a future choice of both Dallas and Denver of the AFL in the 1963 draft. Carr, of Arizona State University, was a future pick of the Giants and Kansas City of the AFL in last month's pro draw.

Hayes could give the Cowboys a mercurial 1-2 punch in the defensive backfield and on kick returns.

"Just think about Hayes and Mel Renfro playing safety together and running back those punts," said Cowboys Coach Tom Landry after the "world's fastest human" signed a three-year, no-cut pact. Renfro, a rookie and former track star at Oregon, has returned kickoffs and punts for 1,393 yards.

Hayes, 21, played flanker, running back and safety for the Rattlers while handling the punting and place-kicking duties. The 5-foot-10, 186-pound flash holds world's records in the 100-yard dash, 9.1, and 100-meter event, 10.0. He won the 100 meters at Tokyo and anchored the winning U.S. 400-meter relay team.

Carr, 6-3 and 195 pounds, played one season at Arizona State, missed the next year because of injuries and passed up the 1964 campaign for the Olympics, where he captured the 200-meter sprint and anchored the American foursome that won the 1,600-meter relay.

He had a year of college eligibility left but chose a pro contract, prompting his coach, Frank Kush, to blast the Giants as "real unethical" for signing him. Arizona State lost halfback Larry Todd, who also had another year of eligibility, to Oakland of the AFL last week.

The Giants are counting on Carr to bolster their pass defense. "We are getting old in our defensive backfield," New York Coach Allie Sherman said, and that is where we will try him first."

Carr joins speedsters Homer Jones, Clarence Childs and Willie Williams in the New York fold. Jones, an alumnus of Texas Southern, owns a sprint victory over Hayes. Childs, also from Florida A&M, has the longest kickoff return — 100 yards — of the NFL season. Williams, a defensive prospect from Grambling, La., College, signed with the Giants Monday.

Three other former Olympic sprinters — Ray Norton, Frank Budd and Glenn Davis — failed to stick with NFL teams in recent years. Norton, of San Jose State, quit after two seasons with San Francisco; Villanova's Budd had trials with Philadelphia and Washington before dropping out of sight and Davis, of Ohio State, retired as a result of leg injuries after a promising start with Detroit.

NFL clubs added six other collegians to their list of signees yesterday.

Howell and Urbanik were also picked by AFL teams.

The AFL came up with three plums, Buffalo signing Notre Dame center Norm Nicola, Virginia State halfback Lynwood Hart and Boston U. tackle John Henry.

Marty Rosen, South Carolina halfback, and Stan Napper, Western Kentucky end, signed with Ottawa and British Columbia, respectively, of the Canadian League.

Clay Wows Nightclubbers With 'I'm Greatest' Show

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A Negro night club here buzzed as never before last night as the self-styled king, Cassius Clay, rocked the place with his witty banter.

"I'm feeling good," said the heavyweight boxing champion who is recovering from a hernia operation.

Clay said he was on his way to Miami to pick up a bus he purchased.

The champ appeared more subdued than in the past, and when someone pointed it out to him, he said, "I've changed my style, but I'm still the king."

Warming up as his audience grew larger, Clay said, "I'm 22 now and I'll be champ for 10 more years.

"I'll beat Liston, and then I want the Rabbit.

"I want The Rabbit bad. He talks too much. I'm after The Rabbit."

Clay revealed that The Rabbit is former champ Floyd Patterson.

Then he said, "but The Rabbit has to get by The Washer Woman first, and The Washer Woman is George Chuvalo.

Asked whether his presence at the night club might conflict with his Black Muslim beliefs, Clay said, "We Muslims are like everybody else — real. We're not somebody with robes on, acting like a saint. We meet people, shake hands and come into clubs."

Cassius added, "I've never had world respect like I do now until I became a Black Muslim.

"I've been invited to 15 countries. I've eaten with kings.

St Louis Wallops Warriors

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Take Wilt Chamberlain away from the San Francisco Warriors; separate Elgin Baylor from the Los Angeles Lakers — and watch the sunshine desert California's National Basketball Association standard-bearers.

With Chamberlain sidelined while a broken nose mends and Baylor resting a muscle pull last night, the short-handed West Coast clubs were no match for the visiting St. Louis Hawks and Boston Celtics. The Hawks, paced by Zelmo Beaty and Bob Pettit, whipped the Warriors 113-92 and the Celtics trimmed the Lakers 108-98 behind the scoring and rebounding of Bill Russell.

In a doubleheader at New York, meanwhile, player-coach Dave DeBusschere led a Detroit Pistons' comeback that nipped the Knickerbockers 102-100 after the Philadelphia 76ers swept from behind and topped the Baltimore Bullets 102-97 for their eighth victory in 12 games.

FALL BEHIND

The Warriors, who also missed injured forward Wayne Hightower, fell behind 37-18 at the start of the second quarter and never threatened. Beaty, with 24 points, and Pettit, with 22, swept the backboards and the Hawks finally cleared their bench in the final period. Nate Thurmond was high for San Francisco with 32 points.

St. Louis lost veteran Richie Guerin, who injured a leg and may be out for two or three games.

Russell netted 24 points and 23 rebounds, running his career rebound total past the 14,000 mark, as the Celtics outscored Los Angeles 15-2 during a three-minute stretch in the third quarter and breezed home. Boston's John Havlicek scored 25 points while Jerry West, hitting on 15 of 24 shots from the floor, led the Lakers with 34.

Baylor, who pulled a muscle in his left leg last Wednesday and aggravated the injury last Sunday, may miss five or six games.

Orioles Set New Defense Records

BOSTON (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles fielded a collective .985 and committed only 95 errors to set major league records for the second consecutive year in 1964, the official American League fielding averages disclosed today.

The Orioles also had three individual defensive pace-setters, second baseman Jerry Adair, third baseman Brooks Robinson and shortstop Luis Aparicio.

Baltimore finished two points ahead of the New York Yankees in the club figures. The Detroit Tigers were third with .982 followed by Chicago and Cleveland, .981 each. The Orioles had set the previous big league records of .984 and 99 errors in 1963.

Adair also established two major league marks. He compiled a .994 average, eclipsing the .9934 mark set by Red Schoendienst of St. Louis and New York in the National League in 1956. Adair made only five errors, two less than the previous record-holder, Brooklyn's Jackie Robinson in 1951.

Baltimore's Robinson, who was named the AL's most valuable player last month, fielded .972 and topped the third basemen for the fifth straight year. Aparicio headed the shortstops for the sixth consecutive season. His 1964 average was .979.

The Yankees had two defensive pace-setters. They were outfielder Tom Tresh, who edged teammate Roger Maris, .9962 to .9961, and catchr Elston Howard, .998.

Other leaders were first baseman Norm Cash of Detroit .997 and pitchers Joel Horlen of Chicago and Claude Osteen, Washington, who handled 60 chances without an error.

Piersalls Separate; Cruelty Is Charged

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Baseball's Jimmy Piersall, recently named the American League's Comeback Player of the Year by The Associated Press, is accused of extreme cruelty in a separate maintenance suit filed by his wife.

The Piersalls have nine children.

Mrs. Mary A. Piersall, 36, in a complaint filed yesterday, said the 35-year-old Los Angeles Angel outfielder kept community funds from her. She demanded that these be awarded to her.

She asked $1,280 monthly alimony and child support.

An affidavit filed by Mrs. Piersall said the baseball star holds community property valued at more than $200,000, including their former home in Hyannis Port, Mass.

She placed a value of $55,000 on the Massachusetts home.

Mrs. Piersall also said in the affidavit that her husband had an income exceeding $40,000 the past year.

The couple married in Scranton, Pa., Oct. 22, 1949, and separated a week ago.

Mrs. Piersall asked custody of the children, Eilene, 13, Doreen, 12, Claire, 11, James Jr., 10, Maura, 8, Kathleen, 6, Ann, 5, Christopher, 1, and Patricia, 4 months.

A hearing was set for Dec. 22.

Tam's junior varsity downed the Vallejo "B" team 45-40. The J.V. was led by Greg Fontan with 10 points and Paul Austin with 8.

In other action, Redwood's freshman team walloped St. Vincent's School for Boys (San Rafael) 60-25. Leading the baby Giants were Bob Torrey with 14; Dave Detrick, 10; and Keith Valk, 9.

I-J's Hanley Reelected To Baseball Post

Also discussed at yesterday's meeting was the possibility of constructing a stairway from the press box area to the dressing rooms for reporters.

New officers elected were Scott (Ace) Baillie, UPI, chairman and Bob Stevens, San Francisco Chronicle, vice chairman. Jack Hanley, columnist for the San Rafael Independent-Journal, was renamed secretary-treasurer.

FAREWELL PARTY FOR GINO

By GEORGE BOWEN

BALTIMORE (AP) — Memorial Stadium, once described as the world's largest mad house, will go wild Sunday over Gino Marchetti and Bill Pellington. For a while, it appeared it might be more like a morgue.

The thought sent minds spinning back to late December of 1958 in New York's Yankee Stadium. Marchetti was stretched out on the frozen sidelines with a broken ankle while the Colts scored an overtime touchdown and a 23-17 victory over the Giants for the championship.

Marchetti had helped make it possible. With two minutes to play in regulation time, the Giants led 17-14 on their own 43 and Frank Gifford ran for what appeared to be a first down. It was inches short and at the bottom of the pile was Marchetti with his broken leg.

The Giants punted, the Colts tied the score and then won in football's first sudden death overtime. Gino insisted on staying until the outcome.

"We were playing a bad game," Marchetti said later of his disregard of doctor's orders to go to the hospital.

He sat there until the middle of the last quarter with more eyes on him than on the game. When he did leave, he was helped to the dressing room, Pellington on one arm and Don Shinnick the other. The cheer from the crowd shook the stadium, and players on the field turned in puzzlement.

"He's feeling better," was the next report.

"He's OK," finally came the word, and you could almost see the gloom disappear. He had a mild concussion but would be able to play in the last two games.

Marchetti's words were typical. How was he hurt? "A running guard hit me on a roll out play. I just goofed up," he said.

The doctor had to argue with him to go to the hospital for precautionary study. "It's a waste of time," retorted Marchetti. "Getting hurt is an occupational hazard."

The last appearance of Marchetti and Pellington in Memorial Stadium will be taken note of in a ceremony before the game with the Washington Redskins.

NOTED COACH LISTS FIVE FACTORS

How To Develop World Swim Champs

By COKE ELLINGTON
Athens, Ga., Banner-Herald

ATHENS, Ga. (AP) — Highly successful Yale University swimming Coach Philip Moriarty lists five factors in developing swimmers like Olympic stars Don Schollander and Roy Saari.

In an interview, Moriarty said both Schollander and Saari had "the best possible coaches, the best possible facilities," and the interest and encouragement of their parents.

In addition, Moriarty said both young men "have grown up in an era in which swimming has been made popular."

Moriarty attributed U. S. dominance of Olympic swimming in 1960 and 1964 to the influence of the age-group swimming program and more pools in the nation, particularly as high school physical education facilities.

He said a coach with the reputation of Indiana mentor and Olympic Coach Jim Counsilman "could go anywhere and have a powerhouse in three or four years."

Yale is a sterling example of the situation Moriarty described. The Bulldogs accumulated a string of 200 dual meet victories in nine years under Bob Kiphuth and one year under Moriarty.

Kiphuth-coached teams lost only 10 dual meets in 45 years. Now in his sixth year, Moriarty has tasted defeat only twice. Last year Yale was 13-0-0 and finished third in the NCAA championships.

Moriarty says his team's workouts during the competitive season consist entirely of interval training. He says the workout is different each day, and it varies for men in different events.

The interval training method calls for swimming a specified distance and repeating the swim at a specified interval for example, fifteen 100-yard sprints, beginning a 100 every minute and one-half).

The Yale coach doesn't feed his swimmers any special diet or vitamin supplements and doesn't require dry-land conditioning exercises. Moriarty says he does encourage his swimmers to take a nine-week physical education course in body-building. He says many of his swimmers take the course, which includes medicine ball and pulley-weight exercises.

Questioned on why the south lags behind some parts of the nation in swimming, Moriarty said two possible reasons are that the population is spread thinly over large areas and that facilities are inadequate.

Last year North Carolina was tied for sixth in the NCAA championships while SEC champion Florida scored one point and tied for seventeenth in the NCAA.

Dodgers Sign College Star

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Dodgers signed one of college baseball's top pitching prospects Monday. He's right-hander Walt Peterson of the University of South California.

He received a bonus of undisclosed proportions and will report next year to the Santa Barbara, Calif., Dodger farm club.

Peterson, 20, of Wilmington, Calif., is 6 feet 2, 195 pounds and had a 38-8 collegiate record.

TRIALS, TRIBULATIONS IN WOMEN'S PRO GOLF

By KATHIE DIBELL
Associated Press Writer

BALTIMORE (AP)—Lithe and lively Carol Mann was looking forward to a great season on the Ladies Professional Golf Association tour this year.

She had won her first tournament, the Western Women's Open in March, and by June was the nation's eighth leading money winner.

The 23-year-old Miss Mann decided to compete in the National Women's Open in San Diego, Calif., July 7.

The day before the tournament, Carol went to the course to practice. Up went the golf club and, "Boom, my back went out," she said.

A doctor's examination revealed that she had severely strained several ligaments and tendons in her lower back.

"I told him I'd play the next day if I had to crawl," she said. "But I couldn't even crawl."

She refused to blame her back troubles on "driving a few golf balls. The night before I was doing a new dance step and I think I weakened my back." Miss Mann said in an interview at her Baltimore home.

Her physician ruled out dancing and golf and put her back in traction, making her completely immobile for a month and a half during the prime touring season.

"I anticipated maybe two weeks of this stuff, but a month and a half," she groaned. "I figure the National Open cost me thousands of dollars."

The honey-haired hoyden was back on the tournament trail by the end of August but was handicapped by a slow swing and a loss of confidence.

CAROL MANN
Aching back

STREAK FINISHED

Her 2½ year streak of finishing in the money every tournament ended. The other women on the tournament tried to help out, picking up balls in holes for her, marking them on the green, but she "expected miracles" and miracles weren't forthcoming.

"I then tried for miniature successes in every little thing I did. It's 90 per cent mental when you get to the point where the pros are," she said.

She resumed the circuit and finished the season with a ninth place finish at Biloxi, Miss.

"I feel good now," Miss Mann said, but it was rugged for a while. "I kept thinking what did I do to deserve this?"

Miss Mann turned pro four years ago when she was a junior at Woman's College of the University of North Carolina because of the "glamor of it. I was immature and naive at the time."

The 6-foot-3 blonde started playing golf when she was 11 under the supervision of her father who was a leading amateur in Maryland. Her height gives her the natural advantage of a wider and therefore more powerful swing although she insists, "I don't flail the club."

IT ISN'T EASY

Life on the 34-tournament trail across the country is not an easy one for a single girl. Carol travels alone, rooms alone and gets lonely occasionally. But for the time being, the attractive blonde isn't considering marriage.

"I've been involved three times, but I personally cannot mix the two. I can't sacrifice my work. No romance anymore." But then she added, "Of course, I said that after each time."

Miss Mann figures she can probably last as a professional player until she's 35, but "if I find something better and if I'm equipped to do it I'll do that."

One of the goals of the LGPA is to gain greater acceptance for women as country club professionals. Only two women in the nation are head pros in clubs.

"Women tend to be more fundamentally sound in the teaching because they know that the sound principles produce good results as opposed to brute strength principles.

"A woman teaching a woman is ideal. A woman teaching a man is not accepted, but a woman will teach the fineness of the game and he can combine this with his muscle and be a much better golfer," she said.

Court Grants 'Lolita' Divorce

SANTA MONICA (AP) — Testimony that lasted only 35 seconds won a divorce for actress Sue Lyon, who portrayed Lolita on the screen.

Miss Lyon, 18, devoted her brief stint on the stand yesterday to a complaint that Hampton Fancher III, 26, was bent on seclusion and that she was "always alone."

Victory Fete Planned For Don Clausen

Marin Republicans will host an informal "victory get-together" for Congressman and Mrs. Don H. Clausen Friday evening.

Gerald E. Misner, chairman of the Marin Republican Central Committee, and Robert D. Huber, Clausen chairman in Marin, announced that an early reception and cocktail hour will be held from 5 to 7 p.m. at Bob's Edgewater Restaurant in Corte Madera.

This will be followed by dinner from 8 to 9:30 p.m. at Sabella's Restaurant in Alto.

"This is an opportunity to meet with Congressman Clausen before he returns to Washington to work for us for another two years," Misner said.

Death In Tub 'Accidental'

A pathology report has confirmed that the death of a Mill Valley woman Oct. 7 in her bath tub was accidental.

Asst. County Coroner William C. Bradley said the report, received yesterday, showed that Mrs. Donna L. Snow, 44, of 360 Marin Avenue, died solely of drowning.

There was no indication that Mrs. Snow had used sleeping pills before she entered the bath, although it was not known she sometime used them to ease severe head-aches resulting from an auto accident five and one-half years ago.

AGNES VINCILIONE
Fulbright Scholar

Marin Artist's Scholarship Means Dream

Agnes Vincilione of Barranca Road, Forest Knolls, had dreamed of visiting her father's birthplace, Oslo, Norway, but never thought she would be going there as a student and Fulbright Scholarship winner.

"I'm up in seventh heaven," the Seattle-born medical artist said today. She said she couldn't believe it when she was notified she had been granted the Fulbright for two years' post doctorate study in parastology.

After graduation from the University of Washington in Seattle, she worked as a medical artist in a Seattle hospital and also did some commercial art and portraits.

"It's been many years since I worked in the operating room, but you can always go back to work you love," she said.

"It really is a wonderful feeling to know you are helping people by making drawings which can't be provided by any other way, including a camera and x-rays," she added.

Mrs. Vincilione is planning to enroll at the University of Oslo in February for her two years' study.

"I'm going to come back to Marin County when I'm through, though. You can't stay here for seven years and not plan to return."

Ross Valley Players Plan Yule Program

"Merry Christmas Mixup" is the title of this year's Children's Christmas play by the Ross Valley Players scheduled for 2:30 p.m. Sunday at the Barn, Marin Art and Garden Center, Ross.

The cast consists of 30 children, ranging in age from four to 12, and one adult Jerry Mathis, who plays a sorcerer. The climax of the play will be the appearance of Santa Claus. The production's writer, director and producer is Marion Hayes Cain.

Radar Station Jobs Changed In Cutback

Four jobs previously scheduled for the Mill Valley Air Force Station have been cancelled but four boilers will be rebricked because things must be kept functional until the station is phased out in July of 1966, it was learned today.

A call for bids on the brick work has been issued by the base procurement station at Hamilton Air Force Base. Engineers have reported that the boilers must be repaired to keep them in working condition.

Softwood plywood production in the United States in 1963 was estimated at about 10 billion square feet. Hardwood plywood production was slightly more than 1.5 billion square feet.

Farm Labor Issues Reflects Conflict Of Ideals, Wants

Residents living in a suburban area like Marin cannot appreciate all the problems involved in harvesting lettuce in Salinas, grapes in Fresno, or melons in El Centro.

Our candid opinion is that the bracero problem involves a clash between our economic needs on the one hand and our fundamental belief in the free enterprise system on the other.

Most of us are believers in free enterprise—let competition on the open market determine who is to work where, and at what wages. We want to keep subsidization of any industry to a minimum. If an industry cannot compete for labor on the open market, let it raise its wage rates to attract workers.

But here's where the economic factor enters the picture. If California farms were forced to seek stoop-labor on the open market (without importing cheaper foreign labor like the braceros), wages would have to be raised more than substantially. And even then, it is doubtful that enough workers can be rounded up at peak harvest season to handle all the crops.

If wages go up on the farms, then the cost of farm products will go up, and consumers like those living in Marin will have to pay more for their food.

This selfish interest in keeping food costs down motivates even the city dwellers to yell: "Let's continue the bracero program; it's absolutely essential for California's agriculture!"

However, on other occasions, the same ones who are yelling for a continuation of the bracero program have yelled for the U. S. to protect our own American labor market from cheap foreign competition.

"Buy American," or "Put an embargo on foreign goods," or "Don't subsidize farms" all reflect a similar philosophy.

We are all proud enough to think that Americans are capable of taking care of all the country's needs — from top level ingenuity to stoop-labor.

But apparently, when it comes to stoop-labor, Californians just don't have the capacity or the will to fill the need. The state always has a big backlog of unemployed, drawing unemployment insurance and relief. But to get this unemployed group transferred to the farms is a difficult thing.

It's a case of wanting to play chief instead of Indian. It's easier to be a white collar man on relief than to bend over a lettuce field or strawberry patch 10 hours a day, six days a week, at low wages.

The ideal would be to make sure that all of California's unemployed are put to use before we call on outside help.

That's the dilemma. Are we going to insist on free enterprise in California agriculture and pay the price of getting Americans back on the farm; or do we throw up our hands and admit that California farms cannot survive without imported foreign labor (a form of subsidy)?

The next step may be some sort of compromise between the two.

. . . WILL HAVE TO STOOP TO CONQUER

Mayor Proclaims Human Rights Day

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Mayor John McInnis of San Rafael has called attention to the important Universal Declaration of Human Rights by his official proclamation of Thursday, Dec. 10 as Human Rights Day in San Rafael. His proclamation takes note of the fact that Human Right Day has been observed nationally since 1950 (this year with a proclamation by President Johnson) and that it is a time for rededication to the goals of equal rights and dignity for all members of the human family.

The Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, which works for the advancement of basic freedoms for all people, commends the action of Mayor McInnis. His proclamation would be even more useful if Thursday, Dec. 10, were used by many people to study the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and commit themselves to its rapid fulfillment.

Marinite Voices Fond Farewell

Editor, Independent-Journal:

No one enjoys leaving a place which has brought much happiness to them, and it is with much sadness that my family and I have to leave beautiful Marin County. But with the sale of our paperback book store in San Rafael, I felt that there was one thing I had to try to accomplish before departing for southern California, and that is, to give our deep and sincere thanks to all the wonderful people in this area for their patronage, as well as their kindness and friendship.

My wife, children, and I will always carry very beautiful and warm memories of this county, and the people living here.

The six years that we have lived here have been truly wonderful, and we will miss you all.

Christmas Parties Really Saturnalian

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Having just completed preparation for a pre-Christmas sermon titled "Saturn and the Star" I came home to read your editorial "Season of Good Cheer; But How To Turn It Off?". You have done well to so expose one decadent segment of society.

Would it be a surprise to your readers to discover that the so-called "Christmas" cocktail party is not really germane to Christmas at all? It is almost exclusively of pre-Christian origin and relates most genuinely to the ancient agricultural festival celebrated in Italy in tribute to the god Saturn. . . .

The Saturnalia festival celebrated the winter seedtime planting period and prayed of the god a good germination of the seed. . . . Slaves ate with their masters who actually waited upon them, and utmost freedom of speech was allowed. Gambling with dice, normally illegal, was permitted. There was much drinking, widespread joy and "frolic without restraint." No punishments could be inflicted. . . .

When the basic concepts of the Saturnalia got to England . . . by 1555 the kingdom was so demoralized that an Act of Parliament restricted the activities. . . .

Kindly pardon the history, but the point is this: it is not the birth of Jesus that people observe in falsely labeled and so-called "Christmas" cocktail parties. These are a "hangover" from the animistic religious cults which prevailed, probably for centuries, prior to the setting by the Church of December 25 as the date of Jesus' birth. . . .

Christmas celebrations of Jesus' birth begin at midnight mass and communion services and are continued at family altars on December 25. The materialistic and secular "saturnalias" which precede this hour should not be given the distinction of "Christmas" and Christmas itself should not be so desecrated.

Thank you for the many things your paper does in making ours a better community. May your Christmas be bright in the light of Him in whose name it is given us.

West Marin Marsh Defender Speaks

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I wish to extend my thanks to senior planner Mr. Walter Horchler of the Marin County Planning Dept. in appreciation of his planning vision relative to maintaining the integrity, character and full recreational potential of Tomales Bay. . . . It can best contribute to this area of Marin by being allowed to live, to exist in this state, and not be lost for something else and something less that can be served as well in other parts of the county. By something less I mean in this particular place, the foreground of Pt. Reyes National Seashore. To quote from the I-J of Dec. 3, 1964, Mr. Horchler also proposed that the upper Tomales Bay tidelands be preserved as a wildlife refuge. A lagoon development with islands such as has been suggested in the West Marin plan would utterly destroy the conservation values of this area.

What we have now in this marshland we have in short supply, and are daily losing more. . . . This part of a coastal environment (and a necessary part of the whole) is of continuing interest to residents, visitors, . . . painters, and all seekers of periodic relief from the monotony of "little boxes." This is re-creation in its deepest sense.

This is the month of the year to see it at its best. . . . Note the wealth of birdlife within this important Pacific flyway resting-stop. Note in particular also the marshland where Walker Creek (Keyes Creek) meets the bay, the bay-in-the-hummingbird's beak of our Miwok predecessors. Notice the smaller inlets of intense marshland color . . . the richness of the color range, the textures, and the sinuous live patterns of the salt grass complimenting smoky-blue and fir crested Mt. Wittenburg. . . . All this is best observed beneath a cloudy "watercolor" sky. Try to imagine this foreground lost —the color gone, the texture gone, the shore birds absent.

Better to lose forever an "original' by Winslow Homer.

Soviets Living In Glass House When It Comes To Bomb Decision

LONDON—One of the major Soviet propaganda themes is coming apart at the seams.

For years the Soviets have sought to plant in the minds of people around the world that the greatest peril of an accidental nuclear war comes from the United States.

THEIR PROPAGANDA line was that it might easily be caused by a trigger-happy American general pushing the button on his own—as in the movie "Dr. Strangelove"—or by some psychotic U. S. Air Force officers releasing the bomb because of mental sickness.

Well, isn't it about time that the nuclear lesson from the peremptory overthrow of Nikita Khrushchev should be brought home?

I am not referring to the merits of discarding Mr. Khrushchev so uncermoniously. That's for the Russians to debate. I am referring to the fact that every Soviet premier since Lenin—Stalin, Malenkov, Bulganin, Khrushchev — has been diagnosed by his successors as "paranoic," "capricious," "irresponsible," "harebrained," "immature" and "hasty."

Are those the political and personal qualities in a head of state which the world can trust with equanimity to have his finger on the nuclear push-button?

Bear in mind: these are not the descriptions of successive Soviet leaders by anti-Communist Westerners. These are the character judgments of the Soviet leaders of their own successors.

Nobody is arguing that the Soviet Union wants to start a nuclear war. All the evidence is that it doesn't. Nobody with any knowledge argues that the U. S. wants to start a nuclear war.

IT MIGHT BE WELL to look rather seriouly at the line of command which has the power to make that decision in the Kremlin.

Here is what you find:

Every one of these Soviet premiers has been appraised by every one of their successors as unfit to make the exacting decisions of a powerful government — and the most awesome of all, requiring superior prudence, is the decision over the use of nuclear weapons.

The conspiratorial ouster of Khrushchev disclosed that there is no proper procedure in the Soviet system for orderly change in the high command of the government. It can only be changed by the shifting tides of allegiance and personal power.

Governments which can change leadership only by cabal inevitably produce periods of inner tension and conflict and instability. What happens to any orderly decision-making process affecting the nuclear trigger during these recurring periods of the Soviet power struggle? Can the world believe that there is prudent control when the Soviet leaders themselves say there have been recurring periods of great imprudence at the top?

While the United States has developed the most elaborate, locked-box protections against any accidental or unauthorized release of any nuclear bomb anywhere in the world, there is no evidence that the Soviets have taken similar precautions.

I submit that if anybody is worried about accidental nuclear war, it would be more realistic to focus their fears on Moscow, not Washington.

Legislature Faces Herculean Job: Senate Reapportionment

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Many legislators, observers and lobbyists predict that the 1965 session of the Legislature will be the "hottest" in the history of California.

WHETHER IT IS or not remains to be seen. But it is a certainty the session will be history making, as 1965 is destined to be the year the United States Supreme Court takes over the constitutional authority of the people of California.

This is in relation to the order affecting reapportionment, and the order of the U. S. Circuit Court in Los Angeles to accomplish the reapportionment by July 1, 1965, "or else."

The "or else" part of the order is the threat that unless the California Legislature complies, the court will do the reapportionment itself, through probably a special master.

THE ORDER BEARS out the contention more than a month ago of State Sen. Stephen Teale (D-West Point), who in a speech at the annual meeting of the California Manufacturers Assn. in San Francisco declared it would be incumbent for the Legislature to act as soon as possible.

And the circuit court said reapportionment must be the first order of business when the Legislature convenes next month. There still is a question as to whether the solons can attend to any other business until the issue is settled.

Senator Teale says the order will send 16 Senate districts to the southern part of the state, which are now held by Northern California senators, when reapportionment is effected on the basis of population rather than areas, as now specified in the State Constitution.

THIS MEANS THAT only three senators will represent the area now represented by 15.

Should the Legislature squabble until July 1 over the reapportionment question and decide not to pass any other legislation prior to the signing of a new bill, the 1965 session also would go down in history as the longest session ever held.

With the many issues before the Legislature next year, it conceivably could take at least six months to wind up the business without the issue of reapportionment.

However, unless the politicians start trying to cut up the new area to be covered into a gerrymandering pattern to satisfy the desires of some Southern California assemblymen to become senators, the reapportionment issue could be settled rapidly.

OR, IF NUMEROUS BILLS are introduced which attempt to circumvent the court order, these would have a delaying action.

Senator Teale, who headed a special Senate committee to study the situation last year, however, will discourage all such antics. He believes firmly that the Senate should attack the issue with speed, carry out the court order, and with the dignity of the California Legislature behind it, should offer a plan which would be satisfactory to the circuit court, which is merely carrying out the orders of the U. S. Supreme Court.

Maybe that will be done.

BENNETT CERF

AT AN ARMY POST in Hawaii, near the end of World War II, a sergeant and a rear-rank private faced a court martial together for striking an officer.

Explained the sergeant: "This here fat colonel stepped on my bunion while passing down the line of review. Automatically, I threw up my guard and pasted him one in the kisser before realizing what I was doing. It was an accident, gentlemen, and I regret it deeply."

The rear-rank private, when it came his turn, pleaded, "You must understand, sirs, that when I saw the sergeant belt the colonel, I thought the war was over."

OUT IN KANSAS, an unkempt youth was hauled into court for the fourth time — always for the same offense: riding off on somebody else's motor scooter. The judge remarked, "Young man, you obviously are a cycle-path."

LBJ Maneuvering For Vietnam Truce

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—Those highly secretive meetings between Secretary Rusk and Foreign Minister Gromyko involved a lot more important matters than the Soviet's unpaid U.N. assessments.

Acting under personal instructions from President Lyndon B. Johnson, Rusk explored with the veteran Russian diplomat the possibility of a political-economic deal with Communist China and North Vietnam to end the worsening guerrilla war in South Vietnam.

WHILE GROMYKO listened intently, Rusk explained President Johnson is ready to forego expansion of the war if an "acceptable solution" can be worked out whereby the Communist-supported Viet Cong would end their insurrection and the U. S. withdraw its troops from that strife-torn country.

Rusk indicated U. S. willingness to urge the present South Vietnam leaders to accept Viet Cong Communists into their government provided they lay down their arms and support a "unity" administration.

When Gromyko said he would have to relay Johnson's message to the new Soviet rulers, Rusk asked that the Kremlin authorities use their "good offices" with Peking and Hanoi to solicit any proposals these Communist leaders might have to end the fighting.

McGeorge Bundy, chief White House foreign policy adviser, has said that President Johnson is delaying formal decision on the growing crisis in South Vietnam until he can ascertain whether a deal with the Communists is possible.

If nothing can be worked out, President Johnson will call a National Security Council meeting to determine which one of a half-dozen military "contingency plans" should be adopted to expand the war.

The president's decision to have Rusk embark on this risky diplomatic mission followed Ambassador Maxwell Taylor's gloomy report on political and military conditions in South Vietnam.

TAYLOR WARNED that the Viet Cong are preparing for a siege of Saigon and stressed that the present "civilian government" has only a 50-50 chance of surviving unless Buddhists and student groups are curbed.

The former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff has told a friend he was too deeply involved in past policy decisions to resign from the mess.

President Johnson's move to seek a political-economic deal with the Communists on South Vietnam fits easily into the over-all foreign policy he is privately advocating. His aim is to increase international understanding and joint cooperation with the Soviet as a basis for the solution of principal sources of friction.

According to one high government authority the president contends that all major problems with the Communist world can be solved by economic-diplomacy.

"THE PRESIDENT keeps saying communism can be tamed or changed by filling the belly of everybody on both sides of the Iron and Bamboo Curtains," the official stated. "He thinks economic programs will solve all the problems.

"He wants all ideological differences between the West and the Communist nations submerged and swept under the rug. If he goes through with his plans, economic cooperation with the Communists will be increased to the point where the U. S. will be underwriting the cost of their industrial expansion and make it unprofitable for them to stir up trouble the next three or four years."

Report Of Fill Area Earthquake Hazards Contains Sobering Data

Following are excerpts from a report to the San Francisco Bay Conservation Study Commission prepared by G. Brent Dalrymple and Marvin A. Lanphere, both with Ph.D. degrees, both geologists. It was released last week. It is being used by both sides of the bay fill controversy.

"THE PURPOSE of this report is to inform the . . . public of the increased severity of earthquake intensities on soft, water-saturated ground, and of the possible consequences of the present trend toward large residential and industrial developments on bay fill and marshland.

"This report is a brief and general discussion of the types of hazards incurred by building on bay mud and of the probably resulting damage at the time of the next major earthquake.

"It is not a comprehensive study of seismic hazards in the San Francisco Bay Area, and the conclusions regarding any particular development on made land or marshland should be based on a detailed study by competent and impartial engineering geologists.

"Those parts of the Bay Area that are underlain by unconsolidated water-saturated sediments (bay mud)—parentheses in report—will be subjected to severe ground movements at the time of the next major earthquake shock. The ground motions in these areas will be of larger amplitude and of longer duration than in areas underlain by dry, consolidated rock and will probably result in more extensive damage to structures and to public works.

"PRESENT BUILDING codes and engineering practices do not take into account the unusual geologic conditions that obtain on this type of ground.

"Because of these factors, it is our contention that made land and marshland adjacent to the bay is, in general, unsafe and should not be used for housing projects, high rise apartment complexes or industrial developments.

"Furthermore, because a major earthquake will result in more intensive damage to public works in these areas than elsewhere in the Bay Area, we feel that this is a public concern and is an area in which effective state legislation should be seriously considered.

"It is a well known fact among geologists that the intensity and duration of shaking during an earthquake are many times greater on soft, water-saturated ground than on solid rock. It is also well known that in an area of active faulting, the condition of the ground is a more important factor than the distance from the faults."

THE REPORT LISTS San Francisco 'quakes of 1865, 1886 and 1906; Long Beach, 1933; Tehachapi, 1952; Mexico City, 1957; Chile, 1960; Alaska, 1964; Niigata, Japan, 1964, where in each case damage was most severe to buildings on filled, sandy, marshy ground or its margins, whether one-story residential or more solidly constructed commercial structures. In one case, building on pilings apparently was not so greatly affected.

". . . This is 'earthquake country,' and the way to live with it is to minimize the dangers from earthquakes by selecting building sites intelligently. Soft, water-saturated ground, such as bay mud, is one of the most dangerous building foundations, while dry, hard rock is probably the safest.

"We cannot tell precisely when the next major earthquake will occur in the Bay Area.

". . . Evidence from recent earthquakes indicates that, in general, made land behaves similarly, under earthquake conditions, to natural, soft, water-saturated ground. Sometimes fill can actually increase the hazards because it places a large static load on unstable ground.

"The present building code does not adequately take into account the state of the natural material beneath the buildings and compacted fill.

"THE DESTRUCTION during recent earthquakes of many modern buildings built on unfavorable ground . . . indicated either that all the engineering problems (of constructing buildings to withstand earthquake shocks) are not entirely solved or that the engineering that would allow structures to withstand large horizontal accelerations is not being put into practice.

"Most . . . proposed developments entail the expenditure of millions of dollars for public works, including schools, that will probably have to be either repaired or replaced by public funds in the event of disaster. The public has a great deal to lose because of these bay fill developments in the event of a major earthquake and, therefore, we feel that they are the public's business."

Buchwald Scoops The World: There Is No J. Edgar Hoover

WASHINGTON—There has been a lot of discussion as to whether J. Edgar Hoover should be asked to resign from the FBI after his recent remarks about Martin Luther King and the Warren Report.

I can now reveal for the first time why President Lyndon B. Johnson can't ask J. Edgar Hoover to resign. The reason is J. Edgar Hoover doesn't exist.

HE IS A MYTHICAL person first thought up by the Reader's Digest, and over the years he has become such a legend that no president has dared reveal the truth.

What happened was that in 1925 Readers Digest was printing an article on the newly formed Federal Bureau of Investigation and as they do with many pieces they signed it with a nom de plume. They got the word Hoover from the vacuum cleaner—to give the idea of a clean-up, Edgar was the name of one of the publisher's nephews, and the J. stood for jail.

What they hadn't counted on was how successful the article would be. J. Edgar Hoover caught the imagination of the American public and became a household word. The FBI had no choice but to keep the legend going. Besides, a person who doesn't exist can't make mistakes.

THEN THEY HIRED people who looked like the composite photo to travel around the country to important dinners and also to testify in front of Congress. There have been, in fact, 26 J. Edgar Hoovers since 1925, and until the recent unpleasantness the FBI intended to have many more.

Up until a few weeks ago the conspiracy was so well handled that no one had the slightest clue, except for the president, that there was no real J. Edgar Hoover.

But then without clearing it, one of the less discreet J. Edgar Hoovers decided to call a press conference, where he violated the FBI rules about getting into politics. He blasted Martin Luther King, the Warren Report and the Supreme Court and everyone started to call for Hoover's resignation.

President Johnson is now in a terrible quandary. Does he get off the hook by admitting there is no J. Edgar Hoover, or should he go ahead and have a retirement dinner for him and see the legend through to the bitter end?

Marin Reservists Earn Twelfth District Honors

The Twelfth Naval District Trophy, a golden cup presented annually to the electronics division deemed best for the year, has been awarded for 1964 to Marin County's Naval Reserve Electronics Division 12-30.

This symbolized top standing over 21 other northern California and Nevada divisions in such matters as drill attendance, advancement, training duty and annual inspection.

The trophy was presented by the district electronics program officer, Comdr. Mathew van Keuren of 47 Clayton Street, San Rafael. A letter of commendation from the commandant was given to Lt. Comdr. Robert N. Thalman of 885 Penny Royal Lane, San Rafael, as he was commanding officer for the period during which the trophy was won.

They were Lt. Jack W. Stromberg of 327 Cardinal Court, Mill Valley; Henry W. White, master chief signalman of 40 Brookside Drive, San Anselmo; Harvey L. Pottorff, interior communicationsman first class of 2558 Heatherstone Drive, San Rafael; Wesley W. Olson, electronic technician first class of 62 Vendola Drive, San Rafael, and Robert M. Farris, radioman second class, of 111 Scenic Drive, Fairfax.

Baby's Missing Quilt Read About, Quickly Returned

The hand-made baby quilt removed from a washing machine in a Fourth Street coin-operated laundry Sunday afternoon has been returned to its owner.

Mrs. June Houck of 23 Hill View in Bret Harte, found the quilt, dripping wet, on top of a washing machine Sunday evening.

"I took it home and carefully dried it and was planning to put an ad in the paper yesterday when I saw Mrs. Evelyn Freel's appeal for the quilt in the Independent-Journal," Mrs. Houck said today.

"I telephoned her and her granddaughter, Teena Marie Serronato, now has it, not only clean but dry," she said.

Fanciful Raisin Desserts For The Holidays

The yen to get into the kitchen and turn out festive pies and cookies reaches a peak during the holiday season. Even those gals who almost never bake can't resist going on a baking spree These creative cooks will feature traditional raisin desserts such as fragrant steamed pudding, mince pie or mellow fruit cake on their menus but leave the preparation of them up to the neighborhood baker.

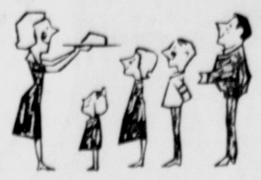

Elegant raisin tarts, a take off on the famous chess pies, are heavenly sweet. Line miniature fluted sand tart pans with pastry and fill with a flavor rich mixture of chopped raisins, pecans, brown sugar, butter and orange juice. Next goes on a spoonful of the creamy eggnog and into the oven for 15 minutes to bake. Top with a rosette of whipped cream.

The intriguing raisin meringue towers are sure to cause plenty of comment among the guests. They're a new presentation of tiny meringue kisses filled with chopped pecans and raisins. Bake them very slowly until they look like delicate spun gold. The elegant whipped cream and chocolate filling is perfect to hold the stacked kisses together.

ELEGANT RAISIN TARTS

Tempt your guests with these fanciful miniature raisin tarts after an elaborate menu. Even when everyone claims they don't have room for dessert you'll find they will not only take one but most likely two. Serve them with expresso or small black coffee. This raisin sweet is very much in order too, for serving with punch for open house refreshments.

Pastry (basis 3 cups flour)
3 cups dark seedless raisins
1½ cups pecans

1½ cups light brown sugar (packed)
½ cup soft butter
½ cup orange juice
2 eggs
⅓ cup half and half

Line small tart pans (2½ inches diameter and ¾ inch deep) with pastry. Place on baking sheet. Chop raisins and pecans fine. Combine with brown sugar and butter to make crumbly mixture. Stir in orange juice; spoon into pastry shells. Beat eggs and add half and half. Spoon 1 to 2 teaspoons egg mixture carefully over filling. Place sheet of foil lightly over top of tarts. Bake on lower rack in hot oven (425 degrees F.) about 15 minutes until pastry is lightly browned. Top with whipped cream before serving, if desired. Makes 3 dozen tarts.

HOLLY MERINGUE RAISIN TOWERS

Tempting raisin meringues stacked three high with a smooth rich chocolate filling holding them together make these the most talked about kisses of the season. Serve them in holly decorated paper baking cups and decorate with a real holly leaf stuck into each tower. Serve with flaming cafe brulot or hot spiced wine with a few California raisins in the bottom of each cup.

6 egg whites
2 cups sugar
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon vanilla
1½ cups finely chopped seedless raisins
1 cup finely chopped pecans
1 pound semi-sweet chocolate
2 cups whipping cream

Beat egg whites and salt to moderately stiff peaks. Add sugar very slowly, beating constantly, until sugar is completely dissolved and meringue is stiff and glossy, about 15 minutes. Carefully fold in lemon juice, vanilla, raisins and pecans. Drop in 2-inch mounds, ¾ inch thick onto lightly buttered baking sheets. Bake in slow oven (250 degrees F.) 45 minutes or until very delicate golden color. Remove to racks to cool. Melt chocolate over hot water; cool slightly. Beat cream until stiff. Gently fold into chocolate. Put meringues together, stacking 3 rounds with chocolate filling between. Makes 1½ to 2 dozen triple decker meringues.

Scouts Participate In Service Aide Work

Thirty-seven Senior Girl Scouts in scouting's service aide program in Marin have been interviewed by the Volunteer Bureau of Marin for placement in service agencies throughout the county. A total of 45 girls are in the program.

Mrs. Marion Kelley, executive director of the bureau, and Mrs. Susan Hobart, field staff member in Marin for the San Francisco Bay Girl Scout Council, said that the service aide program is designed to introduce high school girls to possible vocations through volunteer service.

TO QUALIFY FOR a service aide bar, a Senior Scout must give 50 hours of service. The scouts have met with representatives from the Red Cross, Boyd Natural Science Museum, Marin County Library, special classes for the handicapped children and the volunteer bureau.

The bureau, sponsored by the Junior League of San Francisco, Inc., has interviewed the Senior Scouts in the program at their high schools, and the girls have filled out a service aide application listing choices for service. The bureau's interviewers, volunteers themselves, help each girl to choose the agency suited to her interests. Once the girl is accepted by an agency, she goes through an agency training program before she begins volunteer service.

FOR MANY SCOUTS the service aide program results in a vocation and they continue study and work in the field.

SENIOR SCOUTS in the service aide program are Wendy Magladry, Gail Smith, Doreen Phelps and Coleen O'Connor of San Rafael; Renee Wisecarver, Patty Woolston, Jeannie Christopher, Lori Siemens, Sue Smallman, Pat Russell, Karen Fisher, Ann Lawrence, Mary Elliott, Carol Ecker and Bonnie Paine of Greenbrae; Audrey Harden, Dee Witherow, Theresa Gratto and Cathy Leggett of Kentfield, and Ricki Zoellner of Ross.

Others are Sue Girtler, Mary Rude and Patty Polhemus of Belvedere; Francie Hawes, Arla Bostick and Rita Merklin of Tiburon; Sharon Ward of San Anselmo, Claudia Kling of Corte Madera; Dolores Coulter and Kathy McElroy of Novato.

Zettia Louise Miller A Bride

Swedenborgian Church in San Francisco was the setting for the 3 p.m. Saturday wedding of Zettia Louise Miller of Fairfax and Karl Elliot Graupner of San Anselmo.

Mrs. Richard Thompson was matron of honor in a full length gold crepe dress with green and gold jacket. Wendy Graupner of Piedmont, sister of the bridegroom, and Margo Merle wore olive green crepe gowns as bridesmaids.

Zettia, the daughter of Mrs. Stanley Miller of Fairfax and the late Mr. Miller, is the sister of Mrs. Warren G. Ward of Bellflower and Stanley E. Miller of Garden Grove. She was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School.

Ted is the son of Mrs. Everett Thompson of San Francisco and Adolphus E. Graupner Jr. of Berkeley. He is the grandson of the late Judge and Mrs. Adolphus E. Graupner of San Francisco and the late Mr. and Mrs. Emery Washington Elliot of Alameda.

The bridegroom was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and California Polytechnic College. He is co-owner of Harry D. Grant Stores, Inc., in San Francisco.

Following a wedding trip to Squaw Valley, the couple will reside in San Anselmo.

Loch Lomond Guild Plans Party

Members of the Loch Lomond guild of Sunny Hills and their husbands will celebrate the coming of Christmas on Friday, at a holiday party hosted by Dr. and Mrs. Frank Prince at their Loch Lomond home. Mrs. Prince will decorate her home in a gold decor, using a golden reindeer and a three-tiered gold umbrella tree. The festivities will begin at 7 p.m.

The new members, who were welcomed into the guild at a November luncheon are Mesdames Arther Falk, Robert Green, Keith Harry, Andrew Kopperud, James Kretchmer and Gene Vayssie.

The newly elected officers for the coming year are Mrs. Victor Scatena, president; Mrs. Frank Battat, vice president; Mrs. Herb Osborne, recording secretary; Mrs. Rex McPhail, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Arthur Ackley, treasurer.

Young Adults Club Names New Officers

Linda Howley of Santa Venetia is president of the newly organized Young Adults Fashion Club, a group of girls who have presented their own fashion shows and have modeled for private showings.

Sheila O'Malley of San Anselmo, Sherry Ciliman of Terra Linda, Judy Conti of Mill Valley and Pam Mitchell of San Rafael are also members. All five girls attend College of Marin.

Sheila, who is vice president, will become president when Linda and her family move to Hong Kong on Monday.

Chic Sling

Ski slopers take note: even a broken arm can be carried in style. Muriel Morrison, an executive with Christian Dior-New York, showed at the buyer openings of the spring collection in a tailored gray flannel suit with a broken arm resting in a chic sling of gray and white tattersall check.

Sewing Unit To Be Feted At Luncheon

The Senior Citizen Sewing Group of the San Rafael Branch of the Needlework Guild of America will be honored at a Christmas luncheon at the home of the president, Mrs. Arthur Luchetti of Corte Madera on Dec. 15.

The group of 30 headed by Mesdames Estelle Smith and Leda Savage of San Anselmo have made 350 articles for the ingathering, and sew every Tuesday at the San Rafael Recreation Center.

Tam Centre Section Plans Holiday Party

Splash Prints

Rainwear gets some smart styling from top fashion houses. Sarmi produced a "raindrop" suit in brown silk with a splash print. It was billed as water repellent even to the head scarf.

Teachers May Learn All About Nest-Building Fish

Sounds a bit fishy, not to say for the birds. But if curious be at the entrance of Samuel P. Taylor Park at 10 a.m. Saturday for a conducted tour to see how it's done. Provided you're a teacher, that is.

Willis A. Evans, biologist for the California Department of Fish and Game, will guide a tour guaranteed to show salmon nest-builders and visit the department's fish trap where salmon are moved over a dam to complete their spawning run.

It will be the second of six trips organized by the Boyd Science Museum, sponsored by the Marin County School Office, and designed to teach teachers about natural science of this area so they may instruct others.

Any Marin County teacher in a public, private or parochial school may find out and then tell the rest of us.

Kentfield Man Joins Air Force

Airman Ciocca will go to Sheppard Air Force Base, Tex., for 15 weeks technical training after he completes his basic training.

After that he will train one weekend each month with the 349th Troop Carrier Wing at Hamilton.

He is the son of Mrs. Guy Ciocca and a graduate of Oregon State University.

Guinea Pig Coed Able To Forget Her Illness

TONI BEUGEN

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—A year ago Toni Beugen was making medical history.

Today she does a cartwheel if she feels like it and zips off to suburban St. Louis Park High School.

But in doing that she's still making medical history.

Toni, 17, was the subject of a pioneering operation at University of Minnesota hospitals in which she received two kidneys, transplanted to her body from a child who had died.

It was a break-through for doctors who had long wondered how to overcome the human body's tendency to reject tissue not its own.

"It's wonderful how the human mind can repress things it doesn't want to remember," Toni says. "I've completely forgotten the operation and never remember until somebody brings it up."

Now back to a pert 110 pounds after once weighing only 77, Toni is maintaining a B-plus average in high school. She expects to study drama at the University of Minnesota after her graduation next June.

Today is Wednesday, Dec. 9, the 344th day of 1964 with 22 to follow.

The moon is approaching its first quarter. The morning stars are Venus and Mars. The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

WINNING BRIDGE

An Ounce Of Forethought Can Save Pound Of Excuses

If we spent as much effort in doing the right thing as we later spend in making excuses, nobody would need to read a bridge column, and your scribe would have to go out and earn an honest living.

Long live excuses.

Opening lead — ♠ K

South ruffed the second spade and led a diamond to force out the ace. Back came the nine of hearts, and South tried a finesse with the ten. Down one.

PRETTY USELESS

"Pretty useless finesse," North grumbled.

The contract depended on the clubs, regardless of who had the king of hearts. South should put up the ace of hearts, cash the ace of clubs, lead a trump to dummy, and try a finesse with the 10 of clubs.

After this worked, South would clear the king of clubs out of the way, get to dummy with a trump, and discard two hearts on the two good clubs.

POSSIBLE BAD BREAK

By the time that North had hashed the play over thoroughly South was ready with an excuse.

He was guarding against four clubs to the queen in the East hand. Then the club finesse would work, but the suit would provide only one discard. The heart finesse would still be necessary.

Any excuse is better than none, but pay no attention to this one. East was three times as likely to hold Q-x or Q-x-x of clubs as Q-x-x-x.

FOOLISH THING

Moreover, it was unlikely that East had length in both black suits together with an ace, a king and a queen.

With such a hand he would probably bid three spades rather than only two.

Not all finesses are vital to the contract. Take a necessary finesse, but reject an unnecessary finesse.

DAILY QUESTION

You hold:

♦ A 2
♣ Q 6 3

What do you say?

Answer: Bid three spades.

DOES YOUR SON SAY,
"WHY CAN'T WE STAY IN ONE PLACE LIKE OTHER PEOPLE?"

No wonder Johnny is bewildered and unhappy. Once again he has had to leave playmates behind, move into a strange neighborhood, enter a strange school. Why don't his parents buy a home and stop this endless moving?

Wisdom says: "But it now!" Now, when Johnny needs it most . . . when Johnny's father and mother are young enough to enjoy the home with their children . . . when Johnny's father is at the beginning of one of his longest earning periods.

This is a good time to buy a home, probably the best in the history of this county. For the manner in which homes are financed nowadays puts home ownership on a better basis than ever before. The cost of a home can be paid off over a long period of time. Monthly payments are usually LESS than you would have to pay in rent for the same type of property. Give a thought to buying NOW . . . and when you do, be sure and call a Marin County REALTOR, a member of

TELEVISION REVIEW

Jagger Will Be Missed On Show

By RICK du BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — I can think of a great many better things to do than to watch NBC-TV's Tuesday night series, "Mr. Novak," which is about a sort of peachy keen high school teacher who is coincidentally handsome.

You could, for instance, read Richard Burton's piece about a childhood Christmas Eve in Wales in the current Glamour magazine; or Esquire's three-decade-old diary by an acquaintance of F. Scott Fitzgerald describing the writer at loose ends during one summer; or the story in the Dec. 3 Down Beat about the Chicago clergyman who runs a pastorage for night people in the windy city's Rush Street entertainment area. Or you could hop a plane to Las Vegas and catch the Frank Sinatra-Count Basie nightclub act, than which there is none better in the whole wide world, and which television should try to acquire in a straight-up swap for 100 vice presidents.

But even a superficially social-minded entry like "Mr. Novak" can have something to recommend it, and in the case of this series the something has been Dean Jagger, who appears as the school principal and who, alas, now has to retire from the program because of illness. NBC-TV, which only recently announced that Jagger has had to withdraw because of ulcers, now says that he will be replaced—presumably early in the new year, so far as viewers are concerned—by Burgess Meredith.

To watch Jagger is to admire the absolute security of presence that is the mark of the impeccable professional. Mae West had, and still has, this fantastic security. Cary Grant has it. All the best ones have it in varying degrees. And in this age of the amateur, with its punk singers and stars, such a quality stands out like a mountain among—well, all right—molehills.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: Burl Ives hosts ABC-TV's "Hollywood Palace" Saturday, and Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy are also on hand . . . CBS-TV's "Lassie," solid in the ratings even though the canine star has a new master this season, was renewed with a long-term contract . . . Disneyland's 10th anniversary is the subject of an hour program on NBC-TV Jan. 3, with Hayley Mills, Louis Armstrong and Walt Disney among those appearing.

ABC-TV's "The Fugitive" is very large in Ireland . . . NBC-TV's "Today" show airs an hour feature on the Barrymores tomorrow . . . Adlai Stevenson visits the same network's "Meet the Press" Sunday . . . ABC-TV's "Wide World of Sports" offers the national finals rodeo from Los Angeles Saturday . . .
